Journey to Miami Expected to Take About Three Days With Further Stops Contemplated.

THEY PLAN TO BE HOME CHRISTMAS

Noisy Farewell as Police Hold Back Crowds at Natal—Wing of Plane Repaired.

By the Associated Press.
PARA, Brazil, Dec. 8.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, home-bound for the Christmas holidays, landed here at 12:30 p. m. (St. Louis time) today after a 1000-mile flight from Natal, Brazil.

A light shower was falling as the big red monoplane swooped down on the water. Mrs. Lindbergh was at the wireless, reporting to Pan American Airways, for which her husband is technical adviser, as the craft ended the long hop.

Five minutes before the plane landed Mrs. Lindbergh sent this message: "Reeling in (wireless antenna). Raining."

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh made the flight from Natal, 1094 miles, in seven hours, 15 minutes, flying at an average speed of 150.9 miles an hour. They have a distance of 3778 additional miles to cover to reach Miami, Fla.

Pan American Airways maintains large repair shops at Para and it was thought likely that Col. Lindbergh would have his plane gone over.

Col. Lindbergh is expected to take Three Days.

NATAL, Brazil, Dec. 8.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off for Miami, Fla., in their big red monoplane today at 8:15 a. m. local time (5:15 a. m. St. Louis time).

The trip from Natal to Miami was expected to take about three days. The probable route lies along the Brazilian States of Ceara, Maranhao, and Para, across the 100-mile mouths of the Amazon River, by the French, Dutch and British Guianas, northward over the Lesser Antilles and the Bahamas, and across the Caribbean to Miami.

The total distance of such a route is about 3740 miles.

Will Be Home for Christmas.

Mrs. Lindbergh told friends last night that they expected to be home for Christmas.

The course indicated is the regular route of the Pan American Airways for which Col. Lindbergh is technical adviser. It was in this capacity that he and his wife began five months ago the aerial survey of the Atlantic which finally brought them here from Bathurst, West Africa.

The left wing of the monoplane, found to have been damaged slightly in the flight from Bathurst, was repaired yesterday.

Accompanied by the British Consul, Mr. Scotcher, who with his wife was host to the Lindberghs during their stay here, the couple motored from the Consulate to the docks.

LABOR IS DENIED PLACES ON NRA CODE AUTHORITIES

Industrialists Win Point With Gen. Johnson Unions to Be Represented on New Boards With Consumers.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The NRA, instead of agreeing to appoint labor members to authorities administering codes, is working on a plan for the creation of governmental boards, including labor and consumer representatives, to observe industrial operation.

It was definitely understood today that the organized labor demand for a place with industrialists on the committees which actually govern coded industries has been turned down. The most vigorous pressure from business convinced officials that to grant the union position would be given the worker side.

Ship built up in NRA. Industrialists who made the representations to Hugh S. Johnson came away satisfied.

This led to the new formula, still in an indefinite stage, by which labor would be granted a front seat among reviewing authorities and would have men in strategic position to object to actions inimical to the workers' interests.

Addition of a consumer representative, this plan's authors say, would bring up customer participation to the same privileged status as labor, and lessen the objection of industrialists, to the commanding position which would be given the worker side.

Motion of his counsel for a new trial was overruled by Circuit Judge Thomas E. Toler. The attorneys gave notice of appeal which automatically stays the execution.

Shank showed realization of the importance of the proceedings as Judge Toler read the death sentence.

Shank was convicted of the murder of Alvin Karpis, also of Akron, who with his wife and two young sons was killed by poison at a picnic lunch in the woods near here last Aug. 15. The State charged that Shank poisoned them because he feared Karpis, sought for the theft of papers from the Post-Dispatch, would implicate him in that crime.

The defense made no denial that Shank poisoned them, but sought to prove him insane.

When Judge Toler asked Shank if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced, the attorney made no reply and appeared as if he had not heard the question.

COURT HOLDS PROHIBITION NO LONGER VALID IN HAWAII

Decision of Federal Judge at Honolulu Conflicts With Indicated in Washington.

HONOLULU, Dec. 8.—Asserting that the Volstead act was invalidated by repeal of the eighteenth amendment, District Judge E. K. Massee ruled yesterday that the Federal Court was without jurisdiction in liquor cases growing out of arrests made after the constitutional change.

Federal officers said the territory of Hawaii was made wet by the decision, the territorial liquor law having been repealed simultaneously with Federal prohibition. Washington advised had indicated repeal would not be effective here until Congress acted.

The decision said ratification of the twenty-first amendment "repealed the eighth amendment" and invalidated all laws, Federal, state and territorial, depending for their validity solely upon the existence of the eighteenth amendment.

Local authorities immediately set in motion territorial machinery to regulate the liquor trade. Importers cable ordered to Japan for consignments of sake, a liquor made of rice.

IDAHO MORTGAGE MORATORIUM LAW RULED UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Federal Judge Holds It Impairs Private Contracts and Exercises Improper Police Power.

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 8.—United States District Judge C. C. Cavanaugh ruled yesterday the Idaho mortgage moratorium act was unconstitutional because it impaired the obligation of private contracts and was not a proper exercise of the police power.

THIRD MAN CONVICTED IN M'ELROY KIDNAPING

Clarence Click Gets Eight Years for Abduction of Kansas City Manager's Daughter.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 8.—Clarence Click today found guilty of the kidnaping last May of Miss Mary McElroy, daughter of City Manager H. F. McElroy, and was sentenced to eight years in prison.

Click is the third person to be convicted in connection with the kidnaping. Walter McGee was convicted last July and was given the death penalty, the first such sentence in a kidnaping case in the United States. McGee's brother, George, was convicted several weeks ago and was given life imprisonment.

One other person, Clarence Stevens, is charged with the kidnaping, but he has not been apprehended.

The State had asked for the death penalty for Click.

The jury received the case at 8 o'clock last night, but when it was unable to reach an agreement after two hours of deliberation, the verdict was returned at 11:45 o'clock this morning.

Click had based his plea for an acquittal on the contention he was drawn into the kidnaping through circumstances over which he had no control. The defense said Click had rented the basement of the house where Miss McElroy was held to Walter McGee and Stevens and that they took their abduction victim there without Click's knowledge or consent. When he objected, the defense contended, the abductors threatened Click with death should he notify authorities.

The defense also contended Click's fiancée, Lucille Cates, former wife of Walter McGee, had used her influence to persuade Click to keep quiet and help protect the abductors.

MILTON STATLER, HOTEL MAN'S SON, KILLED IN AUTO UPSET

Wife Seriously Hurt as Result of Tire Blowout Near Sasabe, Arizona.

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 8.—Milton Statler of Kansas City, Mo., son of the late Ellsworth M. Statler, the hotel builder, was killed last night and Mrs. Statler was injured seriously in an automobile accident near Sasabe, Ariz.

Mrs. Statler, brought here to a hospital, was found to be suffering from internal injuries.

Their automobile turned over after a tire blew out, throwing Statler 25 feet from the machine. The pair had been living at the Santa Margarita Ranch, which Statler purchased six months ago.

Federal Judge Holds It Impairs Private Contracts and Exercises Improper Police Power.

BOISE, Ida., Dec. 8.—United States District Judge C. C. Cavanaugh ruled yesterday the Idaho mortgage moratorium act was unconstitutional because it impaired the obligation of private contracts and was not a proper exercise of the police power.

The court ruled that the police power was limited to things essential to the public health, safety and morals, and that legislative acts could not supersede the Constitution.

The last Legislature enacted the law, giving the Governor authority to declare holidays for 60 days periods, to be continued at the discretion of the Governor until January, 1935.

$12,500,000 PWA FUND TO BE ASKED FOR BY MISSOURI

Application Being Prepared by Engineers Under Gov. Park's Direction for Early Presentation.

CONTINGENT ON STATE BOND ISSUE

Money Would Be Used to Build New Penitentiary and Remodel Eleemosynary Institutions.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 8.—Architects and engineers under the direction of Gov. Park this afternoon are completing an application for a Federal Public Works Administration loan of $10,000,000 and a Federal grant of approximately $2,500,000, for rehabilitation and enlargement of the State eleemosynary and penal institutions, including a new State penitentiary.

The application, to be filed tonight in the office of Col. Hugh Miller of St. Louis, State engineer for the P. W. A., is in tentative form and is conditional upon passage by the Legislature of the Governor's proposal for submission of a State bond issue to people of the State, and approval of that bond issue in a special election.

Gov. Park originally proposed a program of $20,000,000 for rehabilitation of the eleemosynary and penal institutions, through repairs, rebuilding, fireproofing and construction of new buildings to relieve overcrowding. Of this amount $10,000,000 would be for a State bond issue and the remainder through an outright Federal public works grant of 50 per cent of the cost of materials and labor.

The program has been reduced to $12,500,000. A special session of the Senate in amending the bond issue proposal to reduce the amount of the proposed issue from $15,000,000 to $10,000,000. A joint and concurrent resolution for submission of the bond issue is pending a vote of the people, in special election to be called by the Governor, is pending for passage in the Senate.

The application being prepared contains only tentative allotments of the funds to various eleemosynary institutions and four penal institutions, due to the fact the Legislature has not finally passed the resolution to submit the bond issue to an election. The allotments will be revised, when necessary, when the resolution is finally passed, it was said. The purpose of filing the application in tentative form is to have the Federal funds, for the loan and the outright grant, "earmarked" for Missouri before the time limit expires. The limit for this, under P. W. A. rulings, is Dec. 15.

Of the $12,500,000 program proposed, $10,000,000 would be a loan from the Federal Government, with the State bonds, if voted, as collateral for repayment of the loan. The remainder would be an outright grant of PWA funds.

The Government being prepared for the Governor to submit the application of D. F. Wallace of Kansas City, an architect, in co-operation with engineers and architects in towns where the State institutions are located.

Of the proposed program, $7,500,000 would be apportioned to seven State eleemosynary institutions, and $5,000,000 to four State penal institutions.

The seven eleemosynary institutions are: The hospitals for the insane in Fulton, St. Joseph, Nevada and Farmington, the State school for feeble-minded in Marshall, the State sanitarium for tubercular patients at Mount Vernon, and the State Children's Home at Carrollton.

The four penal institutions are: The State penitentiary in Jefferson City, the boys' reformatory at Boonville, the intermediate reformatory at Alton, near Jefferson City, and the industrial school for white girls at Chillicothe. The industrial school for Negro girls at Tipton is not included, because the capacity of the institution exceeds its present population.

Of the proposed $5,000,000 allotment to the penal institutions, approximately $4,000,000 would be utilized for the establishment of a new State penitentiary, at a site yet to be designated, and repairs at the present prison in Jefferson City. The bulk of the amount would go to the new prison, which would house about 2000 convicts.

The present penitentiary is badly overcrowded. The cell buildings were constructed to house 2000 convicts, but the prison population now is approximately 4000.

The remaining $1,000,000 of the

MAYOR APPROVES TENTATIVE CITY GAS PLANT IDEA

Says He Will Ask for CWA Funds to Determine Whether Laclede System Should Be Acquired.

ALDERMEN VOTE TO MAKE INQUIRY

Ask for $2500 to Pay Expenses of Visit by Committee to Cities Using Natural Gas.

By the Associated Press.
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 8.—The Board of Aldermen today passed a resolution requesting the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to make available a fund of $2500 to enable the Aldermanic Committee on Natural Gas to visit cities using natural gas.

This action was taken after Mayor Dickmann had sent the board a message commending its appointment of the natural gas committee and stating that he would ask the Civil Works Administration to allocate funds for a survey to determine whether the city should undertake to acquire the distribution system of the Laclede Gas Light Co.

The Mayor's views were given in a message vetoing an ordinance passed recently by a vote of 22 to 6 prohibiting the city from employing consulting engineers.

Referring to the consideration of a municipal gas system, the Mayor said: "This is a question in which the people of the city are vitally interested. It is one on which they are entitled to fair and intelligent advice. This they cannot have without the fullest and most exhaustive inquiry into all points of the gas situation."

Expert Advice Needed.

"Rightly to inform and advise the people on this matter necessitates a thorough survey by specialists of the city's gas situation. It is based on full information of the cost to the city of setting up its distributing system and in connection, an analysis of the distributing system of the present gas company, should be made so the city may rightly determine whether it is advisable to acquire that system, by purchase or condemnation if necessary, in order to operate a gas system in the most economical manner."

"If this inquiry is to be made properly and with the expedition the situation demands, it must be apparent that a very considerable force of experts of various kinds will be necessary. I do not deem it advisable to increase the regular force of employees of the city to such an extent as to furnish experts for this work."

City Fund Suggested.

"It is possible that we may be able to obtain from the Civil Works Fund an amount adequate to do this work. It is my purpose to request to Civil Works Administration to allocate to our city funds for this purpose. If we fail to secure funds from that source, it will be necessary for the city itself to provide for this work."

The question, which cannot be inquired into merely by a junket to other cities, as was done in a previous administration. A full and thorough study of our own situation on the ground is necessary.

Everyone knows the municipality owned and operated water system furnishes the city with better water at a cheaper price than almost any other municipality in the country. And it also knows that the privately owned gas system furnishes the people gas at the highest price of any municipality in the country with the exception of 10 small Missouri cities.

Urges Full Inquiry.

"This striking contrast makes it imperative upon you and me and every representative of this city charged with protection of the people's rights and interests to make the fullest possible inquiry into the facts and arrive at the soundest conclusion possible. I credit you with the same sense for the public welfare that I claim for myself."

Vice-President Golden of the Board of Aldermen, in opposing the ordinance, had declared that the city would be crippled in its rate of progress if it were unable to employ experts to testify.

A recent demand by the city to the State Public Service Commission for a 20 per cent rate reduction in rates of the Laclede Gas Light Co. resulted in the ordering of a 3.5 per cent reduction. The company appealed and the case is pending in Federal Court.

$950,000,000 ISSUE OF TREASURY SNAPPED UP

One Year Certificates Oversubscribed Nearly Three Times; Books Closed.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Treasury said today that subscriptions on its $950,000,000 one-year security issue exceeded that figure by nearly three times.

In one day, offers for this 2 1/2 per cent issue were placed at $2,714,000,000 in round numbers.

President Roosevelt ordered the books closed on subscriptions last night.

Of the $950,000,000 borrowed, $727,000,000 will go to retire certificates of indebtedness maturing Dec. 15, $114,000,000 will be paid out in interest on the public debt. The remainder will be added to the $1,000,000,000 in the general fund of the Treasury and used to pay the routine expenses of the Government. Holders of the maturing certificates were offered equivalent amounts of the new issue in exchange at par.

The issues to be retired are $473,323,000 of certificates paying 4 1/2 per cent and $254,364,000 of bills that paid 3 1/2 per cent.

MRS. ROOSEVELT'S CHRISTMAS CARDS ONLY TO CLOSE FRIENDS

She Points Out That 10,000 Names Have Been Added to Files in 35 Days.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will send Christmas cards this year to 10,000 friends of the family and nobody else.

Discussing her mounting list of business and social contacts, she disclosed yesterday that in the past 35 days she has received 10,000 letters from persons whose names had not hitherto appeared in her files.

"Should I attempt to remember with Christmas cards all with whom I have contacts," she said smilingly, "it would require the entire time of four clerks."

TWO WEEKS' DELAY LIKELY ON MISSOURI LIQUOR BILL

House on Monday Will Start Making Over Senate Measure, Using Its Own Draft of Legislation as Model.

WIDE DIFFERENCES ON PLAN OF SALE

Saloon Provision Likely to Be Erased, Bill Go to Conference — House Group Reports Senate Proposal Favorably.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 8.—The House of Representatives will begin its consideration of the Senate liquor control bill Monday morning, having reconsidered last night its earlier plan to start work on it today.

A desire on the part of the House members to have time to study the bill before it is called up for action, and time to consider its provisions in connection with those of the amended House bill, which will not be returned from the printer until some time today, was responsible for the change in plan.

As the liquor control legislation situation now stands, the Senate has passed a bill, and the House has agreed on an entirely different method of regulation, but has not yet passed its own bill. The present intention of House leaders is to take up the Senate bill for passage, using the provisions of the House bill as the model to which they will attempt to make the Senate bill conform.

The House Committee on Criminal Justice this afternoon reported out favorably the Senate bill, which would place supervision under the State Board of Health instead of under a supervisor appointed by the Governor, as provided in the Senate bill.

Methods of Liquor Sale.

The Senate proposes to return to the saloon method of dispensing liquor by the drink, with authorization for local option on sale by the drink. Package, or bottle, sales are permitted under the Senate bill in any community and no county or city is authorized to prohibit such sales.

The House proposes that hard liquors may be sold only by the bottle and may be sold by grocers, druggists and general merchants. Only beer and wine with an alcoholic content of not to exceed 12 per cent may be sold by the drink in hotels, restaurants, railroads and clubs.

Thousands of French pilgrims, many of whom came from St. Bernadette's district of Haute Pyrenees in six special trains, were among those who cheered.

A special post was allotted to several persons who said they had been cured of incurable diseases at the Grotto of Lourdes.

Near the Pope were several French Cardinals and Bishops who came to honor the new saint.

Catholic records relate that in 1858, when she, a French peasant girl, was 14 years old, the Virgin Mary appeared to her in a hollow of the rock where now stands the church and grotto of Lourdes.

The girl said the Virgin told her to drink at the spring; there had been no spring there before, but as the girl turned to look water gushed from the rock.

All the pilgrims from all parts of the world visit Lourdes annually and many miraculous cures of supposedly incurable diseases are attributed to the shrine.

A few years after her visions, the girl retired to the convent of the Sisters of Lourdes. In 1886 she became a Sister of Charity of Nevers. She died in 1879. The process for canonization was begun in 1908. She was beatified in 1925.

GOLD PRICE UNCHANGED; PURCHASES ABROAD SMALL

RFC Has Bought $24,000 Ounces of Domestic Metal for $11,550,000.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The Government gold price again was unchanged today at $34.61 an ounce.

It was the seventh successive time the same figure had been set for the RFC purchase price of newly-minted domestic gold.

London's price today was $32.48 an ounce on the basis of sterling opening at $5.12 1/2 to the pound.

Chairman Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation said last night that hardly enough gold had been purchased abroad to supply the metal for a good piece of dental bridgework.

Jones said that the RFC had bought $24,000 ounces of domestic gold at a price of $11,550,000.

PATENT MEDICINE MEN ASSAIL PURE FOOD, DRUGS BILL

Spokesmen Tell Senators It Is Unnecessary, Would Give Agriculture Secretary Tyrannical Powers.

AGAINST ARTIFICIAL COLOR IN FOODS

Pickle Representative Urges Enactment — Witnesses Representing Large Groups Are Heard.

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. — The proposed new food and drugs act was assailed today by spokesmen for patent medicine manufacturers, who pronounced it unnecessary, and said it would vest tyrannical powers in the Secretary of Agriculture. The hearings are before a Senate Subcommittee.

H. B. Thompson, general counsel for the Proprietary Association, composed of patent medicine makers, got into an argument with Senator Copeland of New York by quoting a Supreme Court decision to prove that cancer is curable. Copeland is a physician.

"But the Patient Died," Thompson attributed to the late Chief Justice White an anecdote in which a patient was cured of cancer with a paste concocted by an old country doctor, after skilled physicians had given him up.

"Are you attempting to show by a legal decision that cancer is curable?" inquired Copeland. "I am," replied the lawyer.

"Well, all I can say is that we might as well shut up shop," Copeland remarked. Then he said: "That probably is a case where the decision was upheld, but the patient died."

The Senator-physician's irritation mounted as the witness insisted on quoting legal opinions concerning the nature of various grave diseases. In the manner of a lawyer addressing a jury, Thompson told the story of "a mother" who cured "her child" of whooping cough with something bought from a drug store.

"The child quit coughing," Thompson concluded, dramatically. "That mother knew—she knew better than the doctors—better than anyone."

"Are you contending here," asked Copeland, "that these people should be permitted to advertise and sell preparations as a cure for diseases that are generally recognized now as incurable?" Thompson said he was not, but again started to read legal decisions to show that there is a difference of opinion as to which diseases are incurable.

"Well, I want to say that, in my opinion, for the Government to encourage or even permit such a thing at the expense of suffering and unfortunate would be positively indecent," Copeland rejoined.

Purposes of the Bill. The bill embodying the ideas of experts of the Food and Drug Administration, would strengthen the present law by requiring manufacturers of food and drugs to be as truthful in their advertising as the law now requires them to be on their labels, and it would apply the same requirements to cosmetics. It is being opposed by some druggists, newspapers and radio broadcasters, as well as by some manufacturers.

Administration officials sponsoring the bill yesterday showed that under the old law it had been illegal to advertise and sell horse liniment as a remedy for tuberculosis and extract of horsetail used as a cure for diabetes. They also cited numerous cosmetics known to have caused injury and even death to the users. They charged that manufacturers now make in their advertising claims they dare not place on their labels. Both radio and printed advertising would be affected by the new bill.

Cites Court Decisions. Thompson continued to get into difficulties with the committee by citing court decisions and attempting to argue nice points of constitutional law in answer to questions about disease and its treatment. His general contention was that the bill would be an infringement on the constitutional rights of his clients.

Thompson, recognized as the leader of the interests opposing the measure, became scornful as he alluded to its origin, and oratorical as he recited the "rights" and "liberties" he declared it would invade. When Copeland asked a question about diphtheria, Thompson came back with a reference to the Magna Charta. Then he waxed whimsical and quoted from "Alice in Wonderland," which, he said, suggested the source of the bill.

Bruce Phillips, representing the Retail Druggists' Association, criticized the bill as "a skeleton" with power given the Secretary of Agriculture to fill in the blank spaces by regulations. He begged the committee to "write a bill which we can understand," and which would inform druggists in plain terms of their obligations under it.

Drug Man Favors Bill. Donald J. Burke, a drug manufacturer, told the committee that the old law is plainly deficient, and should be drastically revised. He agreed that cosmetics should be brought in, and that advertising claims should be subjected to the same restrictions of truthfulness as labels. The Federal Trade Commission is now attempting to exercise some regulation, he added, but of limited extent and doubtful legality.

"Moreover," he went on, "the procedure for enforcing the present law is woefully inadequate, cumbersome and circuitous. It is expensive to the Government and burdensome to the manufacturer. It operates too slowly. It should be possible to force a change in labels without delay. When a manufacturer resists, two years is sometimes required to force a change."

Bases Argument on Recovery. Alfred T. Falk, Advertising Federation of America, declared in a brief the Federation had stood for truth in advertising and approved of the intent of the bill, but said there were a number of flaws in it. "Our greatest immediate concern in the whole matter is the possible effect on economic recovery in this country," Falk said. "There is not the least doubt that the passage of this bill without modifications would so greatly discourage manufacturers and sellers of foods, drugs and cosmetics from attempting to advertise their wares, the volume of their advertising would be reduced, and the result would be a substantial lessening of employment and profit."

Food Man's Opinion. Sebastian Mueller, speaking for the H. J. Heinz Co., urged enactment of the bill, but said there should be one law for food and another for drugs and cosmetics. He saw no reason why pickles and catsup should be mixed up with cancer "cures" and toothpaste. He suggested that the pending measure be made more stringent by banning all artificial coloring matter from foods.

Existing law undoubtedly requires revisions to cure serious defects," the committee was told by Charles W. Dunn, counsel for the Associated Grocery Manufacturers and the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers' Association. The old act is a compromise, resulting from the original fight over pure food legislation. However, he considered the new bill unduly broad in some respects.

"Under this measure as it stands," he said, "a label might be condemned because it left a false impression in a stupid mind, although the label was wholly true. Labels should be condemned only when they are false in fact, to the injury of the public."

He also objected to the broad administrative powers that would be vested in the Secretary of Agriculture. The bill would place on manufacturers the burden of proving themselves innocent, once condemned by the Secretary, he declared.

Approved "In Principle." Another witness, eager to record his approval of the bill "in principle," but to object to practical details, was Francis A. Whitmarsh of the National American Wholesale Grocers' Association. He advised that Congress amend the old law instead of enacting a new one.

John F. Anderson, spokesman for a manufacturer of pharmaceutical supplies, endorsed the purpose of the bill to curb false and misleading advertising. The present law, he said, leaves the door wide open "for the quack and faker." However, he thought the language of the present bill rather sweeping. He also urged legislation to prevent counterfeiting of drug labels—"a practice," he said, "which has developed in connection with the drying bootleg industry, and has become widespread."

William F. Reide appeared in behalf of the National Confectioners' Association, which, he declared, has always stood for quality and purity but feels that the bill would impose undue hardships on their business. He and Stroud Jordan, who followed, complained that the pro-

$2.60 A GALLON TAX ON SPIRITS IS RECOMMENDED

Interdepartmental Alcohol Committee Favors Increase From Present Charge of $1.10.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. — The President's special interdepartmental Alcohol Committee has recommended that Congress impose a tax of $2.60 a gallon on distilled spirits as compared with the present $1.10 tax.

The committee also recommended that all beers be taxed $5 a barrel, the same as the present 3.2 brew. The present tax on beers of alcoholic content in excess of 3.2 is $5 a barrel.

The committee recommended a 16 cents a gallon tax on still wines of less than 14 per cent alcoholic content compared to the present 4 cents.

Wines of from 14 to 24 per cent alcohol would bear a tax of 40 cents a gallon tax, and all wines above 24 per cent, including brandies, $2.60 a gallon, the same as for distilled spirits.

Sparkling wines not containing more than 24 per cent alcohol would pay 80 cents a gallon, while those over 24 per cent would be assessed $2.60 a gallon.

The proposed rate of 80 cents a gallon on natural sparkling wines is the same as that in effect before prohibition.

Artificial sparkling wines containing not over 24 per cent of alcohol would bear a tax of 40 cents a gallon.

The committee recommended that an additional tax of 16 cents a gallon be assessed on blended and rectified spirits over and above the $2.60 gallon levy, bringing it to a total of $2.76. The present law provides an additional tax of 30 cents a gallon on rectified and blended spirits.

Floor Stock Levy. Another recommendation was for a Federal floor stock tax on all tax-paid alcoholic beverages held for sale on the date on which the new tax rate goes into effect.

The tax would be equal to the difference between the present $1.10 a gallon levy and the adopted rate of tax whenever the new rates were the higher.

Permanent legislation was advocated to enable the Government to provide for damages for injury or death resulting from the sale of liquor. The committee suggested the tariff law be revised to aid the administration in negotiating reciprocal trade agreements.

It approved the action taken by the administration in setting up control of imports under the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

The committee gave no estimate of the return on the proposed levy of $2.60 a gallon on spirits, but said that under a tax rate of $2.50 a gallon, on the basis of 1934 low business estimates, consumption would amount to $225,000,000 in revenue.

On the basis of high business activity estimates with the same rates, consumption was estimated at $250,000,000 of spirits with revenue at $375,000,000.

Congressional experts using the committee's estimates as a basis, figured the yield on spirits alone at $240,000,000 a year and bringing in about $240,000,000 on low business activity and $350,000,000 on high business activity during the calendar year of 1934.

In addition it was estimated that revenue from wine and liquors would increase the total by at least $12,000,000.

For Sharing With States. A plan was recommended for sharing Federal receipts from liquor taxes with those states which refrain from adding additional levies other than general personal property taxes. The committee suggested the following basis:

First, that 20 per cent of the total Federal receipts from internal revenue taxation of alcoholic beverages be set aside for return to states.

Second, each state to be entitled to that part of revenue so set aside, which its production plus consumption of alcoholic beverages bears to the total domestic production, plus consumption of alcoholic beverages.

Third, any state not accepting the plan, its part of the 20 per cent allotment would return to the Federal treasury.

The committee said "the most careful Federal program can be duplicated by an unco-ordinated system of state taxation superimposed on the Federal system," and Queues at Retail Stores; One Grill in 12 Hours Served 3000 Persons.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8. — Park avenue is the great wet way, there New Yorkers are paying large prices for liquor. The supply was adequate generally, but the demand was considered astounding by club managers.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Robert Hansen, a hotel club supervisor. "It's overwhelming." He said he served more than 3000 persons in a cafe lounge and grill in 12 hours. Other supervisors reported land office business.

Many of Park avenue's hotels are stressing informality in drinking. Some drank at tables about as high as a tea table; others at higher tables. Some waiters wear red cotton jackets with sky blue trousers. Chairs in one cafe are, done in pink leather against black.

Meanwhile, lines wait at retail stores to buy liquor.

COST OF ELECTRIC POWER UP 9.2 PCT. IN FIVE YEARS

Number of Customers Increases 9.5 Pct. and Amount Consumed 3.6 Pct.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. — The amount of electrical energy sold to ultimate consumers increased 8.6 per cent during the five years ending in 1932, but statistics of the quinquennial census, taken this year, show consumers were paying 9.2 per cent more than they did in 1927.

Revenue from electric service to consumers total $1,821,105,224, or an average of 2.8 cents a kilowatt hour. The manufacturers' revenue increased $154,099,953 over that of 1927.

Current sales totaled 65,895,975,335 kilowatt hours, an increase of 2,283,494,747 kilowatt hours, to 23,630,662 were commercial and 2,277,749 were municipal. Municipal customers paid an average of 3.1 cents a kilowatt hour as compared with 2.7 cents by commercial customers.

Domestic service led, paying $649,764,750, or an average of 5.5 cents a kilowatt hour. Commercial service for small light and power, retail, paid $491,852,492, or an average of 4.1 cents a kilowatt hour, and from large light and power, wholesale, revenue was $453,390,849, or an average of 1.5 cents a kilowatt hour.

The number of customers increased 2,074,094, or 9.5 per cent, during the five years, every geographic division showing gains.

added: "It is to be anticipated, however, the present need of the states for new sources of revenue will lead to state taxation of alcoholic beverages per se."

"It is clear that an effort should be made, therefore, to co-ordinate state and Federal liquor taxation on some basis equitable to both, which will permit the formulation and administration of a reasonably uniform and orderly taxing system."

The committee said its recommendations were designed to discourage the consumption of spirits in contrast to light wines and beer and to bring about price competition, that would drive the bootleggers out of business.

It said that three years might be required to break up the illegal traffic in alcohol.

Occupational taxes recommended are: Brewery, $1000, same as at present; wholesale dealers in wines and spirits, $200 compared with $100; retail dealers, wines and spirits, $50 against $25; wholesale dealers in beer, $50 same as at present; retail dealers in beer, $20, same as at present; rectifiers, $500 where capacity is 500 or more barrels a year compared with the present $200; rectifiers with a capacity under 500 barrels, $250 against $100.

TEXAS MOB BURNS BODY OF NEGRO KILLED BY POSSE

Ex-Convict Accused of Attacking and Murdering White Woman Shot When He Resists Arrest.

By the Associated Press.

KOUNTZE, Tex., Dec. 8. — A Sheriff's posse last night shot and fatally wounded David Gregory, Negro ex-convict, accused of attacking and murdering a white woman on a road near here last Saturday. Members of the posse said he resisted arrest.

The wounded Negro died in custody of officers of the law without regaining consciousness. Later a mob took the body from the officers, mutilated it and burned it in the Negro quarter of Kountze early today.

Officers and citizens had been searching for the Negro since Mrs. Matilda Williams Brockman, 30 years old, wife of a farmer, was found dead on a highway near here last Saturday. Mrs. Brockman had left home for Kountze alone in a light truck. She was found shot to death beside the truck, which had been set afire. She had been on her way to a store to exchange a pair of baby shoes she had purchased.

Last night a posse trailed the Negro to a hiding place in the belfry of a Negro church at Voth, between Kountze and Beaumont. He was shot and wounded, officers said, when he drew a pistol and resisted arrest.

The Negro was taken to a hospital at Beaumont, but when officers received information a mob was forming at Kountze and starting for Beaumont, they took him away in an automobile. The Negro died in the car on the road between Beaumont and Vidor, six miles east of Beaumont.

The body was taken to Silabes, nearby, by Sheriff Miles Jordan of Hardin County.

The mob, slowly increasing in size, followed the Sheriff to Silabes, took the body from him, tied it behind an automobile with chains and dragged it for 35 minutes through the Negro-section of Kountze. Mobsters cut out the heart and other organs before casting the body into a fire.

Auto Hits Parked Cars, Then Steps. Charles M. Horn, 6116 Newport avenue, lost control of his automobile, which carried out of two parked machines, crossed the sidewalk and demolished the steps at the home of A. J. Rabe, 3885 Schiller place, at 11 o'clock last night. Horn and a companion, Mathias Cadenbach, 6556 Odell street, were cut by glass from the windshield.

DIVORCEE DROPS SUIT AGAINST E. W. GROVE

Attorneys Refuse to Discuss Settlement of Breach of Promise Action.

The $500,000 breach of promise suit filed by Mrs. Sadie Thompson White against Edwin W. Grove, wealthy board chairman of the Paris Medicine Co., was dismissed at Clayton today by her counsel.

Attorneys in the case, when questioned by reporters, refused to discuss the terms of settlement.

Mrs. White, a divorcee, charged that Grove, under the name C. C. Long, asked her to marry him in February, 1932. She said she did not know that Grove was married, and the father of three children. The Grove home is at 1108 Hillside avenue, Hampton Park.

Mrs. White lived for about a year before her suit was filed, in October, 1932, at 7709 Shirley drive, Clayton, where she was known as "Mrs. C. C. Long." The owner of the apartment, in a deposition hearing, testified she had rented it in August, 1931, to a man who gave her the name "C. C. Long" and told her he was Grove's secretary.

CLOSES TOBACCO MARKETS Gov. Pollard Acts After Complaint of Low Prices.

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 8. — Gov. Pollard at a conference with tobacco men today agreed to close all dark fired tobacco markets, effective today, until further notice.

The action was taken by the Governor after the delegation had complained of low prices received for the weed, and recommended that a holiday be declared. A campaign to induce growers to decrease their acreage for next year will be started.

"High license, but sale by the drink" is advocated by McNamara, who writes:

"If the bill permitting sale in original packages only is passed, the packages will be taken to the appointment of the fifth or sixth committee, the reports of the earlier ones having been rejected by one or the other house. No bill has ever presented a more perplexing problem and never have the two houses been farther apart on any bill.

It is extremely doubtful that the State bone dry law will be repealed and a regulatory act passed until two or three days before Christmas.

MAN SHOT DEAD; COMPANION SAYS TRAMP DID IT

Alton Laborer Slain
When Returning From Trip He Made to Bargain for a Horse.

MECHANIC TELLS POLICE OF KILLING

Declares Victim, Was Attacked by Transient After He Picked Up Hobo's Suitcase in Road.

F. Fox, unemployed laborer Alton, was shot and killed last on a back road between Alton and Godfrey, four miles north. His companion, Walter D. Dunston, a mechanic, told police a hobo killed

Dunston, who was held as a Corbett witness, said he had driven in a borrowed truck, to a farm Godfrey, where Fox bargained the purchase of a horse. Fox had a piece of land near Carle. It was his announced intention to go back to the farm with the horse and two small children.

Fox thought this too much did not make the purchase.
Dunston went on in the truck and he turned off the highway and drove on a dirt which parallels it. Fox asked to stop for a moment, he counseled and he did so. Fox was on the road about 100 feet ahead walked toward it.

He picked it up by a handle or
"roppe," or something," Dunston said, "and he called to me, 'Why a hobo's suitcase.' Just then a came out of the weeds east of road—a hobo. He said, 'Drop it and look at him, sort of I and the hobo said, 'Drop it, I and put up your hands.' Just then the hobo pulled out a shiny revolver, and shot me. Then he shouted at me, out of there.' I turned off rights of the truck and jumped out. I ran to a farmhouse.
Farmer didn't have a telephone.
took me to a neighbor's house somebody called the police."

Highway policemen took the scene of the killing and then that apparently Fox had been moved, since it was ditch at the west side of the and he had seen Fox fall at side. Dunston said also drawing, while in this case stepped in before the drawing was held.

Although finding in favor of the seven defendants, the Court expressed the following opinion of such activity: "I know it is a racket, because I'm on the sucker list myself."

Later Judge Dickmann told reporters, "I get calls from solicitors of all sorts every day, and most of them become indignant when I refuse to buy tickets for their schemes."

Those discharged under the Court's ruling were: Robert Eaves, Mrs. Irene Scott, Mrs. Ruby Marx, William O'Flynn, Theodore Rapp, William Wentzell and Stanley Williams.

Police testified that Eaves, who represents the "Hooverville Industries," told them he was approached by O'Flynn and Mrs. Marx, who offered to turn over 50 per cent of the profits of a raffle to the Hoover-ville river front community of unemployed for use of the name, Ho-overville Industries. The prize was to be a radio.

Other evidence disclosed that the tickets did not specify that there was to be a drawing, merely offering the "donor" an interest in a radio. Police made arrests and stopped the sale early in October after purchasers and a physician, who reported that his name was used without authority, made complaints.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO REMOVE SHERIFF AT ST. JOSEPH, MO.

Committee Against Lynching Also adopted by the Missouri Committee calls on Gov. Park to remove the Police Reported Two Women and Five Men Sold Tickets

Charges of establishing a lottery were dismissed in Court of Criminal Correction today against two women and five men, who, police reported, sold tickets on a raffle under the name of the "Hoover-

Dismissal was on grounds of insufficient evidence, it being ex-dence must show that there was a

PEEK EXPECTED TO QUIT SOON AS AAA CHIEF

He Is Said to Be Ready to Resign Because Secretary
Wallace Accepts Advice of Others.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—At the Agriculture Department today it was evident that officials expected George N. Peek, Farm Administrator, to resign soon.

At the same time, it was equally evident that President Roosevelt wished to retain the head of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in some other high Federal position.

Secretary Wallace, under whom Peek has been working, offered a new post to his aid; at least one other position elsewhere, not immediately specified, was said to have been proposed.

Officials held unlikely a compromise between Peek and opponents in the Agriculture Department.
Tension which had existed for months and finally broke out openly, showing that the Secretary often accepted the advice of others rather than that of Peek, was believed by these officials to have made untenable Peek's present position.

In many of these cases, Peek favored compromise with business, whereas the Liberals urged compulsion where they thought it necessary.

The suggestion was made that Peek might follow to the NRA the codes, other than those involving processing, which were transferred from the AAA to Hugh S. Johnson's agency. But Peek said he had heard nothing of that "rumor," and he did not wish to discuss his resignation.

It was known, though, that one of Peek's basic objections to his AAA job was that his decisions were subject to approval or rejection by Secretary Wallace; that a transfer to the NRA would simply move the veto power to Johnson;
that Peek still thought the AAA should be independent, operating directly under the President.

All these things have been put before Mr. Roosevelt, who talked with Peek, Secretary Wallace and Dr. R. G. Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, and of the leading departmental liberals.

When, and if, Peek leaves the AAA, it was forecast that his job would be taken by Chester C. Davis, now director of the production section of the Farm and Administration, and that several others would stay long after the Farm Administrator departed.

YOUNG WIFE WHO ELOPED IN 1930 SEEKS A DIVORCE

Mrs. Dorothy Trux Cross 17 and a Student in High School at Time.

Mrs. Dorothy Trux Cross filed suit for divorce at Clayton yesterday against Edward Cross Jr., 7045
Maryland avenue, University City.
She alleged non-support and general indignities.

Mrs. Cross, daughter of Mrs. Harry J. Klingler, 11 Tuscany Park, Clayton, said she married Cross in St. Charles Dec. 31, 1930, after an elopement. She was then 17 years old and a student at Clayton High School, and Cross was 20. They were remarried Feb. 4, 1931, in a church ceremony.

The separation occurred last Oct.
10, the petition states, after he required her to live with his parents. He was quarrelsome, pursued her with petty accusations and finally asked her to leave his parents' home and return to her mother, she charges.

SEEKS TO FILE CLAIM AGAINST COMPANY IN LIQUIDATION

Petition in Case Against Prudential Casualty and Surety Co.
Under Adjudication.

Application by Max F. Ruler, attorney, for permission to file a $5000 claim against the Prudential Casualty & Surety Co., now being liquidated, was taken under adjudication today by Circuit Judge Hamilton.

The time limit for filing claims against the company was reached Oct. 1, 1932. In his application, Ruler stated that worry over his personal financial losses and illness in his family caused him to have a loss of memory such that he was not cognizant of the order for the time limit. The claim is for legal services in May, 1931. The company was taken over by the State Insurance Department the following December.

G. A. R. Veteran at Sherman's Grave

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

G. A. R. MAN SALUTES GEN. SHERMAN'S GRAVE

Patrick H. Callahan One of Four Survivors of Post War Leader Once Headed.

Patrick H. Callahan, one of four survivors of Ransom Post No. 131, Grand Army of the Republic, who describes himself as "of the vintage of '49," rose from a sick bed yesterday to visit the grave of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman in Calvary Cemetery.

Dressed in his uniform of blue, shoulders determinedly erect as befitting the Adjutant-Quartermaster, Chaplain of a post once commanded by the General himself, Callahan approached the plot with martial step, although he said Memorial day decorations have for many years been entrusted to the wives and daughters of the veterans, auxiliaries to the G. A. R.

"The main body of us always has gone out to the National Cemetery at Jefferson Barracks," explained Callahan, an officer of the post for 15 years, "where we hold our exercises. There's a platform there to speak from, right in the cemetery.
While the comrades are buried, and then the soldiers out there always have their hand on hand. The women would take care of the other graves."

Again the veteran paused, folded gently the post's burial flag—under its folds have lain more than 1000 members—gazed across the whitestoned reaches of the cemetery.

"A Drummer Boy With Buell."
"I've lived in St. Louis for 78 years," said Callahan, once a 13-year-old drummer boy in Buell's army, "and today I know more people out here than there."

"Why, it seems like yesterday when old Ransom Post would turn out in full force. When Gen. Sherman was commandant it had 1174 members. During the world's fair here, hundreds paraded. My but it was grand!"

A mist curtained the eager light, invoked by memory, in the veteran's eyes.

"But there's only two of us left now able to report for duty," he said sadly, "and we can't even get out of a car without help."

FOURTH LYNCHING CHARGE FILED AT ST. JOSEPH, MO.

Two Men Held for First Degree Murder and Two Others Face Less Serious Accusations.

By the Associated Press.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 8.—A second warrant charging first degree murder in connection with the lynching of Lloyd Warner, Negro, was issued late yesterday.

Aaron Levin, 50 years old, a junk dealer, is charged with being one of the men who got the gasoline which was thrown on the Negro's body and set afire after he had been hanged to a tree near the Buchanan County jail.

Police said Warner confessed attacking a 21-year-old girl in an alley here the night of Nov. 28.

The first murder warrant was issued against John F. Zook, ex-police man and wrestler who was accused by authorities of pouring the gasoline on the Negro's body.

Arraigned, both Zook and Levin pleaded not guilty and were held without bond to await action of the grand jury which has been called to meet Monday.

Police reported to William O.
Sawyers, Assistant Attorney-General, that Jess Davison, 28 years old, a trucker from Fillmore, Mo., admitted his truck was used by the mob in the siege on the jail.

Davison told police he was in St.
Joseph on his way from Kansas City and that the mob forced him to drive to the jail and back up to the jail door. He then was ordered to drive forward, he said.

Later, he learned, he told officers that his truck was used to tear down the door. Sawyers held Davison without blame, and Davison was not held.

Levin's arrest brings to four the number of persons now actually charged in connection with the lynching.

Carl Fisher, transient, is charged with possession of a pistol stolen from the living quarters of Sheriff Otto Thelgen. He pleaded guilty.
Sentence has been deferred at the request of Sawyers pending further investigation of the lynching.

Walter Barton, also a transient, is charged with malicious destruction of property in connection with the attack on the jail. He also pleaded guilty and is held without bond.

Police orders have been issued to summon 30 St. Joseph men and women for questioning by Sawyers.
Among the witnesses to the lynching to be questioned are two physicians and one high school teacher, a woman.

"I have reports that a prominent St. Joseph physician, a former official of the Buchanan County Medical Society, was within a few feet of the hanging," said Sawyers. "I have reports that this doctor and a fellow physician with him are of the firm opinion Warner was dead before he was hanged. They think he died of the knife and ice pick wounds."

Two men Sawyers wants in the investigation have left town, police were told. One is said to have placed the noose on Warner's neck.
The other is said to have jumped from the tree on to the victim's head.

Flares as Accident Warnings.

Red flares, to be used as warnings at accidents which endanger traffic at night, have been distributed to all police districts. The flares, which burn 15 minutes each, are to be lighted at street cava-ries, serious motor accidents and in other emergencies.

MAN KILLED BY AUTO WHICH FAILS TO STOP

Claude R. Utley, 43, Washington Park, Struck on Illinois Highway No. 11.

Claude R. Utley, 43-year-old painter, of Washington Park, was killed when struck by an automobile on Illinois Highway No. 11, a short distance east of the Mounds Country Club, last night. The driver failed to stop.

The body, lying at the edge of the highway, was found by G. R.
Kyle and J. A. Watson, farmers, who were passing in a truck at 12:30 a. m. They reported that broken headlight glass was strewn over the pavement.

Examination of the body at a Collinsville mortuary disclosed that the legs had been broken and the skull fractured. Papers in the clothing led to the identification.
Washington Park, a suburb of East St. Louis, is about two miles from the scene of the accident.

HELD ON PERJURY CHARGE

Man Listed Property for Bond Not Mentioned in Bankruptcy.

Theodore Erhardt of Belleville was arrested today on a charge of perjury arising out of his assuming the role of bondsman for Sam Kabuta, charged in Federal Court with bootlegging.

Kabuta failed to appear and the bond was declared forfeited. Meanwhile Erhardt went into bankruptcy, and was indicted for perjury for failing to list among his assets property of which he claimed ownership in going bond for Kabuta.
Erhardt was placed in jail.

SCHOOL BOARD APPROVES BOND ISSUE PROJECTS

Acts Unanimously on Work to Be Done If Proposed Sale of $2,000,000 in Securities Goes Through.

Definite action for submission of a $2,000,000 bond issue for school construction and application for a $500,000 grant from the Federal Public Works Administration was taken by the Board of Education yesterday.

The board approved without a dissenting vote a program for new buildings, alterations and additions formally recommended by Superintendent of Instruction Gerling. The Instruction and Finance committees, meeting jointly, directed Building Commissioner Friton to prepare estimates and sketches. Preliminary estimates placed the cost of the superintendent's program at $2,042,000.

Dr. Solon Cameron, chairman of the joint committee, announced the committee had agreed on the bond issue and grant proposals, but preferred to present these for board action next Tuesday, when the regular monthly meeting will be held.

The proposed bond plan had been planned by the board to apply the grant on interest and principal payments on the bonds for the first few years, thereby making a tax to support the bonds unnecessary for that time. Dr. Cameron announced yesterday, however, that if the bonds could be sold more advantageously to the public the grant would be applied on building costs. If the latter plan is adopted, the amount of bonds which will have to be issued will be appreciably less than $2,000,000, or else it will be possible to enlarge the program somewhat.

The board considered submitting the bond proposition to the voters about Feb. 20, but did not reach a decision. Members are discussing whether to submit the issue before or after the quadrennial school tax election or at the same time. The tax election usually is held in March, but might be advanced.

Employment of Ben H. Charles, bond lawyer, as special counsel is under consideration. He has told the board his fee would be $3500 to $5000 if the bonds are issued or $300 to $500 if they are not voted. Use of special counsel in bond matters is customary.

Details of Program. Superintendent Gerling's program, as adopted, follows:

New buildings—Southwest High School, probably on a site the board owns at Kingshighway and Arsenal street, for 1300 pupils, $1,200,000; Herzog School, 6830 Mimika avenue, replacing portables, $250,000; Educational Museum, on board property adjoining Hadley Vocational School, $75,000; new Delany School for Negroes (portables), somewhere in Carondelet, $80,000.

Alterations—Columbia School, $100,000; Divoll (Negro), including manual arts equipment, $82,000; Gundlach, $65,000; Carr Lane (Negro), $65,000; Washington, including playgrounds, $50,000 (if physically feasible); Froebel, including playgrounds, $22,000; Carondelet, play rooms, $10,000.

There has been some pressure for a new northwestern high school on board property at Kingshighway and Natural Bridge avenue, but this is regarded by officials as less necessary. Superintendent Gerling would like to have several more grade schools erected but sites are not available. Chairman Richard Murphy of the Finance Committee was one of three board members absent yesterday. He has indicated opposition to the bond proposal but apparently all the other members are committed to it.

MAN BURNED TO DEATH

IN E. ST. LOUIS SHACK

Relatives Think John Schaeffer Upset Kerosene Lamp, Starting Blaze.

John Schaeffer, 53 years old, was burned to death last night when he destroyed the two-room frame shack in which he lived in a field back of thirty-seventh street and the tracks of the Gundlach Railroad in East St. Louis.

Relative thought he had upset a kerosene lamp, starting the fire. A charred body was found near the door of the shack when the flames died down.

Park Board Patrolmen Carl and Vincent were in a park police station about two blocks from the shack when, at 8:30 o'clock, they heard sounds which they took to be shots, and, running out, saw the shack afire.

The doors and windows were locked, but they kicked in the back door. The flames drove them back and one returned to the station to turn in the alarm. Firemen did do little because the nearest plug was eight blocks away, they made three trips to the police station to bring back a 40-gallon tank of water which they dumped on the flames without result.

Earlier in the evening Schaeffer had visited the home of a brother, Jacob M. Schaeffer, 711 (rear) eighth avenue, where he had dinner. He had had several drinks, a brother said. A niece and nephew took him home a short time before the fire broke out.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM FOR FORESTRY WORKERS

President Authorizes $1,000,000 Fund Aim Is to Adjust Men to Country Life.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Expenditure of $1,000,000 in an educational program for the 800,000 men in the Civilian Conservation Corps has been approved by President Roosevelt.

"It is the hope of the President," Robert Fechner, director of emergency conservation work, said, "that the educational program, by emphasizing forestry, agriculture and like subjects, will assist the men in readjusting themselves to a new mode of living—to country life instead of city life—and to assist them in improving themselves educationally and vocationally."

"A great number of the young men in these camps arrived at working age at a time when there were no jobs. Many of them have had meager educational advantages. We propose to give these men a chance at an education and to furnish them vocational guidance which will aid them to earn a living."

Fechner, who announced approval by the President, said plans contemplated, operation until April 1. He told newspaper men he had no information that the Civilian Conservation Corps would be made permanent, but he thought there was "a good chance that it would be."

Under the program, an educational adviser for each of the 1466 camps will be appointed, with a general director in the Interior Department's office of education and an adviser for each of the nine army corps areas.

George F. Zook, Commissioner of Education, will prepare the general program of instruction and appoint the camp advisers, subject to recommendations from the directors of vocational education, university extension, and agricultural extension in each state.

Zook said advisers would be selected as far as possible from among trained school teachers and that most of them would be among the unemployed.

He added no scale of pay for advisers had been determined, but that it was contemplated to "pay enough to entice rather able men into the service."

U. S. AID FOR TEXAS TEACHERS
Funds Will Prevent Closing of Rural Schools This Winter.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Maury Hughes of Dallas, Tex., State Recovery chairman, said yesterday after a conference with Harry L. Hopkins that the Federal Relief Administrator had promised funds for preventing the forced closing of rural schools this winter.

Hughes said 2000 teachers in schools in communities of less than 2500 inhabitants would face loss of their jobs, because of the exhaustion of school funds, save for the Government's promised intervention. He was unable to estimate how much money would be required, but said Hopkins assured him teachers would be paid at their prevailing wage scales. Whenever a school's funds are exhausted, its officials will apply to Lawrence Westbrook, Texas Relief and Civil Works Administrator, who will advance funds to keep it going, Hughes said.

SLAYER OF HUSBAND ACQUITTED
Memphis Woman Held Prayer Service After Ax Killing.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Daisy Storie, 38 years old, who testified she called her two daughters and held a prayer service after she had killed her husband with an ax, was acquitted by a criminal court jury yesterday of a charge of murder.

Mrs. Storie said her husband had menaced her with heavy pieces of iron, that he had often beaten her and threatened her life, and had mistreated her daughters.

INCREASE IN DEATHS FROM HEART AILMENTS

Insurance Company Offices
Says Rate Is 139 Per 100,000 Policyholders.

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—A marked increase in deaths from heart diseases was reported today to the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Dr. William Muhlbarg of Cincinnati, medical director of the Union Central Life Insurance Co., estimated from a study of records at 51 leading life insurance concerns that the death rate from organic diseases of the heart will be 159.1 per 100,000 policyholders during 1933. This compares with 149.9 last year. However, in discussing mortality from all causes, he said the 1933 record will be one of the most favorable, and that "medical resources have more than held their own against the forces of death."

The tuberculosis death rate dropped from 67.3 in 1932 to 54.8 this year. Dr. Muhlbarg said the death rate from all causes among policyholders increased from 81.8 per 100,000 in 1932 to an estimated 83.4 for this year. He said it should be remembered that 1932 showed the lowest death rate on record among the general population. Increases in deaths from diseases of later life—such as heart ailments, cancer and cerebral hemorrhage—he attributed, at least in part, "to the successful saving of the younger lives over a period of years, so that more people reach ages when degenerative diseases are more prevalent."

COUNTY CITIES TO PETITION FOR LOWER WATER RATE

Each Incorporated Town to Be Represented Before State Commission.
City attorneys of St. Louis County municipalities will meet at Clayton Courthouse today to prepare a petition to the State Public Service Commission seeking lower water rates. Copies of the petition will be filed separately on behalf of each town, in accordance with recommendations of the League of Municipalities, which is sponsoring the movement.
The league, composed of Mayors and other officials of the cities, voted last night to retain C. E. Smith & Co., consulting engineers, to prepare evidence for submission to the commission. The County Court will be asked to join in the rate reduction campaign, on behalf of water consumers living outside the incorporated towns.

RESISTS ROBBER, CUT ON HAND

Confectioner Loses $11 in Holdup; Two Suspects Held.
Kaspar Sarkessian, confectioner at 1535 Franklin avenue, was cut on the hand last night when he struggled with a Negro robber who had a knife. The robber and an accomplice escaped with $11 from Sarkessian's pockets. Police later arrested two suspects.
Harry Feik, druggist at 1701 Park avenue, was held up by two robbers who took $25 from his cash register and $3 from his pocket. One robber was armed.

$2,000,000 LOAN TO BE SOUGHT FOR MUNICIPAL BRIDGE

City Will Ask Public Works Administration for Aid in Completing Rail Approaches.

The city will endeavor at once to get a loan of about $2,000,000 from the Federal Public Works Administration, for completion of the five approaches to the Municipal Bridge, needed for use of the bridge by the railroads.
This was announced by Mayor Dickmann after a conference in his office this afternoon, the third meeting on the subject this week, attended by several city officials and Henry Miller, president of the Terminal Association. At the two earlier meetings, downtown business men urged early completion of the Municipal Bridge approaches, and the carrying out of the program, contained in the bridge ordinances of 1930, for opening of Eads Bridge upper deck as a public use on the same terms as Municipal Bridge highway deck.

President Miller, at today's meeting, gave assurance that, if the PWA loan could be obtained, the Terminal would fulfill its contract with the city, which includes turning over Eads Bridge upper deck for public use on the same terms as Municipal Bridge highway deck.
Time Expires Friday.
City Counselor Hay was directed to present the city's application, at the earliest time possible, to Hugh Miller, PWA administrator for Missouri. The time limit for presenting applications for PWA loans is next Friday.

While the application is pending, the city will take the offer of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation of a $700,000 loan for the same purpose, that sum being inadequate to the requirement.

At yesterday's meeting, of which that held today was a continuation, the proposal of seeking a PWA loan was discussed, as well as an alternative plan, which was that the city should go to court, if necessary, to enforce fulfillment by the Terminal of its original contract with the city. This alternative plan will now be held in abeyance, until it is known whether the PWA loan can be obtained.

The 1930 ordinance contained a criss-cross and complicated agreement, by which the Terminal was to advance money to the city for building five approaches to Municipal Bridge, to cost about $3,250,000. After completion of the approaches, the Terminal and its member railroads were to use Municipal Bridge, paying the city tolls guaranteed to be not less than $500,000 a year.

From these tolls, or by remitting them, the city was to repay to the Terminal, in installments, the money advanced for the approaches, at 5 per cent interest; and was to pay the Terminal also $140,000 or $200,000 a year for the public use of the Eads Bridge upper deck. The original plan was to make it a free highway, but since a 10-cent and 15-cent automobile toll has been established on the Municipal Bridge upper deck, for relief purposes, it has been planned to charge the same toll on Eads Bridge. The city was to pay $140,000 a year for opening Eads Bridge to pleasure automobiles, and $200,000 if business cars and trucks were included.
In August, 1932, with the work of approach-building not more than one-half done, the Terminal Association announced that it could not advance any more money. It had then advanced $1,370,000, and its claim for advances is now more than $1,400,000. This means that the city, under the contract, owes the Terminal about $70,000 a year interest on the money already advanced.

JURY AWARDS EXECUTOR TITLE TO $8000 IN BONDS

Rules Gift to Him By the Late Mrs. Christine Rembor Was Bona Fide.
Gus H. Ruedi, former marriage license deputy, 2659 Laclede avenue, need not inventory $8000 in bonds or their equivalent in the estate of his aunt, Mrs. Christine Rembor, who died five years ago, a jury in Circuit Judge Williams' Court decided today.
Ruedi, who was the executor under her will, said the bonds were given to him by Mrs. Rembor several years before her death and he used them to buy the Laclede avenue home, as his aunt directed. His attorney, Julius H. Drucker, contended the gift was bona fide, having been made by Mrs. Rembor to compensate Mr. and Mrs. Ruedi for various acts of kindness and other service. By the verdict the bonds were held to belong to Ruedi.
Mrs. Jessie Morgan, a daughter of Mrs. Rembor, said the property in question should be accounted for, and she prosecuted the action against the executor. Mrs. Rembor lived at the Ruedi home about eight years, paying $35 a month, and had promised further to reimburse Mr. and Mrs. Ruedi, they said.
Under her will, Mrs. Rembor bequeathed the residue of her estate to Mrs. Morgan and two other daughters after providing for specific payments of $250 for charitable purposes and $2000 to Mrs. Ruedi. Her estate was inventoried at $2300.

SENATORS STUDY COUCH'S DEALS WITH CHASE BANK

Group Inquiring Into RFC Loans to Consider Evidence as to Personal and Railroad Transactions.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. — The Senate Stock Market Committee's long investigation of the Chase National Bank has ended with evidence that may bring an inquiry by another Senate committee into the bank's relations with Harvey C. Couch, a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The committee received testimony that Couch has had large loans outstanding with the bank ever since he has been on the RFC and that during that period the Government agency has made loans to railroads which have permitted them to pay obligations of about $10,000,000 to the bank.

Chairman Fletcher said he would confer with members of the committee investigating RFC loans about following up the Couch evidence presented to the stock market investigators.

The inquiry was resumed until Dec. 15, when hearings will begin on the Detroit closed banks.

Last Minute Developments.

Testimony that losses of $30,000,000 were sustained in two syndicates in Seaboard Airline securities by a group of banks and individuals, including Norman H. Davis, American Ambassador-at-Large; Couch and Charles S. McCain, chairman of the board of the Chase Bank.

Evidence that Albert H. Wiggin, then chairman of the Chase Bank, was extended a participation on original terms in an investment trust organized by Couch in 1929 after it already had realized a profit. This was characterized by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, as a "gift."

A denial by McCain, who was on the stand, that he was responsible for Huey Long's filibuster against the Glass bank bill last year.

Testimony by McCain that he now receives several salaries as director of outside corporations in addition to his compensation from the bank of $128,000 a year.

McCain's Debt to Bank.

McCain testimony that he owes the bank $153,000 and that the bank holds his note for another $320,000 in connection with a syndicate loan in 1930.

Testimony that RFC loans to the Rock Island Railroad while McCain was director of the road totaled about $14,000,000.

Recommendations by McCain for modification of the Securities Act, and repeal of the national banking law permitting banks to make real estate loans.

Agreement between McCain and Senator Couzens (Republican) Michigan, that National bank examiners should be rotated, so that the same men would not examine an institution year after year.

Couch submitted a letter denying any "irregularities" in his relations with the Chase Bank. Couch said he had sold his stock in the bank at a loss and severed all official connection with the institution when he took his Government post.

From Outside Corporations.

McCain's testimony that he received salaries from outside corporations, as a member of their boards of directors, came only a day or two after W. W. Aldrich, president of the bank, testified bank officers should not be permitted to receive outside compensation.

The witness said he received $2400 a year as director of National Cash Register; $1200 as director of the Louisiana and Arkansas Railroad, and $8000 as director and member of the finance committee of Goodrich Tire and Rubber Co.

McCain did not go into much detail about the big Seaboard pools, but said one of them lost $10,000,000 and the other $20,000,000. He indicated, however, this was not a total loss as the pool members still hold some of the securities. Previous evidence has shown that other participants of the pools included Dillon, Read and Co., the Chase Securities Corporation, Rogers Caldwell of Tennessee, W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Clarence H. Mackay of Postal Telegraph.

FATHER BRINKMAN IS NAMED
ST. LOUIS CATHEDRAL RECTOR

Appointed by Pope Pius XI to Succeed to Late Magr. J. J. Tannath.

The Very Rev. Nicholas W. Brinkman, administrator for four and one-half years of St. Louis Cathedral parish, is now rector of the Cathedral by virtue of an apostolic bull, or mandate, received by Archbishop Glennon yesterday from Pope Pius XI. Because the late Magr. J. J. Tannath, rector of the Cathedral, was a devoted private in the Pope's household, it was necessary that the appointment of a successor should come from Rome.

Father Brinkman has been at the Cathedral since 1916, when he received his first appointment there as assistant to the Rev. Francis Gillman. After Father Gillman's elevation to the episcopate, Father Brinkman remained under Magr. Tannath, taking charge after the rector's death in 1929.

SPEAKER NOT SWORN, COLORADO HOUSE STARTS ALL OVER AGAIN

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 8. — After four and one-half days of work, the Colorado House of Representatives started all over again yesterday. Fifteen bills and three resolutions had been assigned to committees when it was learned that the new Speaker, Dr. W. H. Twining of Aspen, had not been sworn into the speakership when he took the gavel. The Speaker announced he would take the oath immediately. Legislative authorities doubted the legality of the work accomplished, so the various measures were re-presented and re-assigned.

UTILITIES ATTACK
PLANS FOR PWA LOANS

Water Company at Jefferson City Alleges 1888 Franchise Is Still Operating.

Hearings on protests of privately owned utilities against proposals for a municipal water system in Jefferson City and a municipal electric plant in Trenton were held yesterday by the State Advisory Board of the Federal Public Works Administration. The board took the requests for loans and grants under advertisement.

Jefferson City seeks a $647,430 loan and a $185,840 grant for an $833,270 water system. The Capitol City Water Co., claiming a franchise granted its predecessor by the State in 1888, has not expired, protested. The city argued the company, had operated under a 20-year franchise which expired in 1928. The company is owned by the General Water, Gas & Electric Co. of Philadelphia, which is financed by the International Utilities Co. of Philadelphia.

A. Z. Patterson of Kansas City, attorney for the water concern, attacked the city scheme as violating the PWA rules in that a grant could not exceed $44,984, since the city proposes to take over the company's distribution system. He asserted the city calculates on selling more water than it plans to pump. Rates have been comparatively high, the lawyer said, because of turbidity of the Missouri River and the hilly terrain the mains traverse. Mayor Means Ray and City Attorney June Rose told the board they were confident Jefferson City would vote general obligation bonds for the system, even if denied Federal aid. Rose said it was understood the grant would be reduced if the company's mains were taken over. He said the city had the right to take over the private system and had sought unsuccessfully to get a price from the company, which asserted the municipality had no such right.

Recently an offer of $500,000 was made the company by the city, Rose related. Patterson said the company claimed an investment exceeding $1,000,000. Rose challenged him to state a price, but Patterson replied he was not authorized to do so. It was shown the company has a contract with the State penitentiary, which uses one-third of the output, at a favorable wholesale rate. Former Governor Canfield, a member of the advisory board, told the Post-Dispatch this rate was obtained when the prison threatened to get its supply from wells. The State Capitol and the city pay the same rates as private consumers. The city administration was elected on a municipal ownership platform.

Trenton is asking a $240,540 loan and $74,590 grant for a $315,130 electric system. The Missouri Public Service Co., part of the Insull utility chain, represented also by Patterson, protested. Patterson in this case claimed a perpetual franchise granted a predecessor in 1886, but the city said there was a 20-year franchise which expired in 1925.

It was represented by the city its application was to enlarge an existing plant, but there is no municipal plant, Patterson argued. He asserted it was misrepresented to the people before $250,000 in general obligation bonds were voted last month that the bonds were not subject to tax support. The city expects the system to be self-supporting. Company engineers' assertions that the city proposal would cost $90,000 more than estimated, but that the plant would be of insufficient capacity were presented. Russell Pickett, special counsel for the city, charged the company with misrepresentation and unfairness.

Woman Robbed by Intruder. Mrs. Josephine Jorka, 1206A (rear) North Seventh street, reported she was robbed of $15 last night by a Negro, who walked into her kitchen when she unlocked the door in the belief that her son was returning home. LIQUOR BOAT THAT GOT AWAY
SEIZED AGAIN; CAPTIVES FREED

Four Canadian Mounted Police Released After Being Kidnaped at Sea.

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 8.—Four kidnaped members of a Royal Canadian Mounted Police cutter were liberated and their captors, members of the crew of the Kromhout, were arrested by French authorities at St. Pierre, Miquelon, last night, it was announced today.

Under cover of darkness, the Kromhout slipped into the little French possession off the coast of Newfoundland and sought to land its prisoners.

Warned to be on the lookout for the Kromhout, as had all shipping in the North Atlantic, police arrested Capt. Ross Mason and the crew of the Kromhout, a suspected liquor runner. The men were placed in jail at St. Pierre.

News of the capture brought to an end a widespread hunt for the boat, which yesterday morning had been seized by Canadian police, only for its crew to overcome four of them and flee with their ship.

Canadian police said 10 cases of whisky were aboard the Kromhout.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—In antici-

Spurred on by the Government's ing schemes, business men in the capital expect the usual huge Christmas turnover of stocks.

Already German butchers are advertising "partial payments" for the traditional Christmas goose, the purchaser promising to pay small amounts weekly until Christmas week when the goose must be called for. In the event the payments become too great a strain on the purchaser's slim pocketbook,

AT SAULT STE. MARIE

Two Women and Five Children Asleep When Trapped by Flames in House.

By the Associated Press.
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Dec.
8.—Seven persons were burned to death here shortly after 1:30 a. m.
today when fire destroyed the home in which they were sleeping.

The dead: Mrs. Genevieve Hib-belen, 31 years old, and her four children, Genevieve, 8, Catherine, 6, Jerome, 5, and Ernest, 2; and Mrs.
Erline Orr, 19, and her daughter,
Constance, 18 months.
The fire, which apparently started from an overheated stove, wrecked the interior of the house and was not discovered by neighbors until it had made considerable headway.
Mrs. Orr's husband, Albert, was said to be employed on a dredging project in the Detroit River, near Amherstberg.

PROPOSAL TO HALT TRAFFIC IN SUNDAY STREET CAR PASSES

P. S. Co. Would Increase Price to 30 Cents, with 5-Cent Rebate

The Public Service Co. is seeking a way to stop the extensive traffic in Sunday and holiday street car passes developed by boys at transfer and terminal points throughout the city.

The plan proposed by the company is to increase the price of the pass from 25 cents to 30 cents and to give a rebate of 5 cents to the holder when the pass is turned in to a conductor. Samuel W.
Greenland, general manager of the company, conferred with City Counselor Hay yesterday and obtained his approval of an application to the State Public Service Commission for authority to make the change.

The pass is good for as many rides as the purchaser wishes to use on Sundays and holidays. Passengers on their way home late in the day often give their passes to boys who run alongside cars or stand at transfer points, begging for them. The boys sell these passes, usually for 5 cents, to persons about to board cars. Greenland thinks the 5-cent rebate would induce passengers to turn in their passes on their last ride and thus keep them out of the hands of boys.

REPORTS THEFT OF $1000 RING

Man Says It Was Snatched From Finger as He Answered Bell.

Joseph Genovese, president of the National Fruit Co., reported to police last night that on last Tuesday evening he answered the door bell at his home, 1130 Lawn avenue, and faced a masked and armed robber, who snatched Genovese's threecarat diamond ring from him and fled. Genovese said the ring was valued at $1000.

Asked why he delayed in reporting the robbery, he explained that he at first thought he had been the victim of a joke and that the ring would be returned.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 7.—C. W.

"I sold papers in Houston in 1908 and Mr. Jones, a wealthy lumber dealer, was one of my customers," Harris said. "He never used to have any small change, so I sold him papers on credit. I wrote Mr.

Jones recently and told him I be-and I would like a check for a

Harris said Jones sent him a cordial letter in reply, saying he was "sorry there has been such a great delay in making the payment. It just goes to show that

ACTION ON CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT DEFERRED

Missouri Senate Committee Holds Hearing and Sets Another Session for Thursday.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 8.—Senate Committee action on the resolution for ratification of the Child Labor Amendment to the Federal Constitution has been postponed until after next Thursday, when Sterling E. Edmunds, W. Scott
Hancock and other St. Louis opponents will be heard.

The Committee on Constitutional Amendments conducted a long public hearing yesterday afternoon at which 18 representatives of women's and labor organizations were heard in support of the resolution.
Dean W. B. Rutledge of the Washington University Law School answered legal objections made against the bills. He gave it as his opinion that the action of the Missouri House in ratifying the amendment by a vote less than a clear majority of all elected members was legal, and that the amendment could be considered by this Legislature even though a previous Legislature had rejected it.

Other speakers were Mrs. Dewitt C. Chastain of Butler, president of the Federated Women's Clubs of Missouri; J. Grant Fry of Cape Girardeau, State Commander of

RAKES 'CZARISM' IN BILL TO REFORM FOOD-DRUG LAW

Dr. George Reddish, Bacteriologist for Lambert Pharmacal Co., Condemns Measure.

The Tugwell bill, designed to protect the consumer by strengthening the food and drug act, was assailed as "vicious legislation conferring czaristic powers on the Secretary of Agriculture," at a meeting last night of the Drug, Chemical and Allied Trades Association of St. Louis. The meeting was held at the Melbourne Hotel.

The speaker was Dr. George Reddish, former bacteriologist in the Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture, former assistant professor of bacteriology at Yale University and former assistant professor of medicine at the College of Virginia. Since 1929 he has been chief bacteriologist for the Lambert Pharmacal Co.

Hearings on the bill, drafted by Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Tugwell and food and drug administration experts, were opened yesterday before a Senate committee at Washington, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace contending its enactment necessary to protect the public from useless and even harmful and fatal preparations not controlled by the food and drug act passed in 1907.

Says Safeguards Are Adequate. Denying need for the legislation, Dr. Reddish declared four existing Federal laws—the food and drug act, caustic poison act, Federal Trade Commission act, and the postal regulations against use of the mails to defraud—offered adequate safeguards for the public health and pocketbook.

Cosmetics, now free from control of the food and drug act, might be regulated by extension of the list of 12 poisons listed in the caustic poison act, Dr. Reddish suggested. The food and drug administration has called attention to an eye lash application that caused blindness.

A question as to how the Federal Trade Commission or postal laws would prevent dissemination of false and misleading advertising was answered by the speaker with the statement that jurisdiction of the Federal Trade Commission might be extended to radio advertising. Under the present food and drug act, manufacturers are prevented from making false and misleading statements on packages or advertising accompanying packages, but no restriction is placed on other advertising. Attention has been called by the food and drug administration to the difference in statements made on packages and in advertising of various products.

Provision of Bill.

The Tugwell bill provides that "an advertisement of a food, drug or cosmetic shall be deemed to be false if by any particular it is untrue, or by ambiguity or inference creates a misleading impression regarding such food, drug or cosmetic." It also is to be considered false if it includes the name of any disease for which the drug is not a specific cure, but is a palliative if it makes a representation "by ambiguity or inference, concerning the effect of such drug which is contrary to the general agreement of medical opinion."

Dr. Reddish declared this section showed "the intelligence of the public is underestimated."

"The phrase, 'ambiguity or inference' is difficult of interpretation and is a springboard that will carry us we know not where," the speaker said. "Furthermore, what is 'general agreement of medical opinion'?"

Whose word is to be taken as that of medical opinion? The Secretary of Agriculture would be the man who would determine this. Doctors disagree.

There were, he said, specific cures for only a few diseases, and purchasers of proprietary medicines did not expect them to cure serious diseases.

"If a preparation bears a label stating it is good for the gums," he continued, "the average person does not believe it would cure all gum diseases. But in one case, Government officials required the phrase be removed from the label. If a man is hit on the head, he knows that aspirin may cure a headache but he knows also it won't cure a fracture of the skull."

Says Package Medicines Cost Less. "Doctors and dentists are not required to cure ailments by application of medicine. Nor is it necessary to state on the label the contents of a prescription they give."

Unhurried selections are usually best, and it won't be long until hurry will be necessary.

2,500,000 ON CWA PAYROLL, ADMINISTRATOR ESTIMATES

Says Other States Will Get Quotas of Those Failing to Fill Them by Saturday.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Relief Administrator Hopkins estimated today that the Civil Works Administration had 2,500,000 on its payroll, on the basis of a telegraph poll yesterday.

Inability to purchase shovels, picks and other tools, and the fact that some of the "work relief" projects which had been in operation in

No germicide can kill all micro-organisms, Dr. Reddish stated, implying that this was well-known to the public.

"Prosecutor, Judge, Jury." Requirements for formula disclosures were regarded by Dr. Reddish as "exasperating."

"As soon as a product becomes successful, imitators spring up and under the Tugwell bill they could put out an identical product," he said. "This would discourage initiative and amount to throwing away all research work."

"With power to license, define standards, inspect plants, make seizures and act as prosecutor, judge and jury in cases in which manufacturers may be sent to prison, the Secretary of Agriculture has been made a dictator and a czar."

E. C. Flint, vice-president of Alcan & Co., Inc., declared the Tugwell bill to be "probably the most far-reaching and destructive Federal legislation ever proposed," and said "the most outstanding discoveries in the history of medicine have emanated from commercial laboratories." He cited insulin for diabetes, ipecac alkaloids for amebic dysentery, ether for anesthesia, diphtheria antitoxin and vaccine for rabies, typhoid and smallpox.

states which had not filled their quota would have the jobs made available to them transferred to other states.

The work of putting men on civil works jobs appeared to Hopkins to be slow in Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Missouri, Michigan, Massachusetts and Illinois.

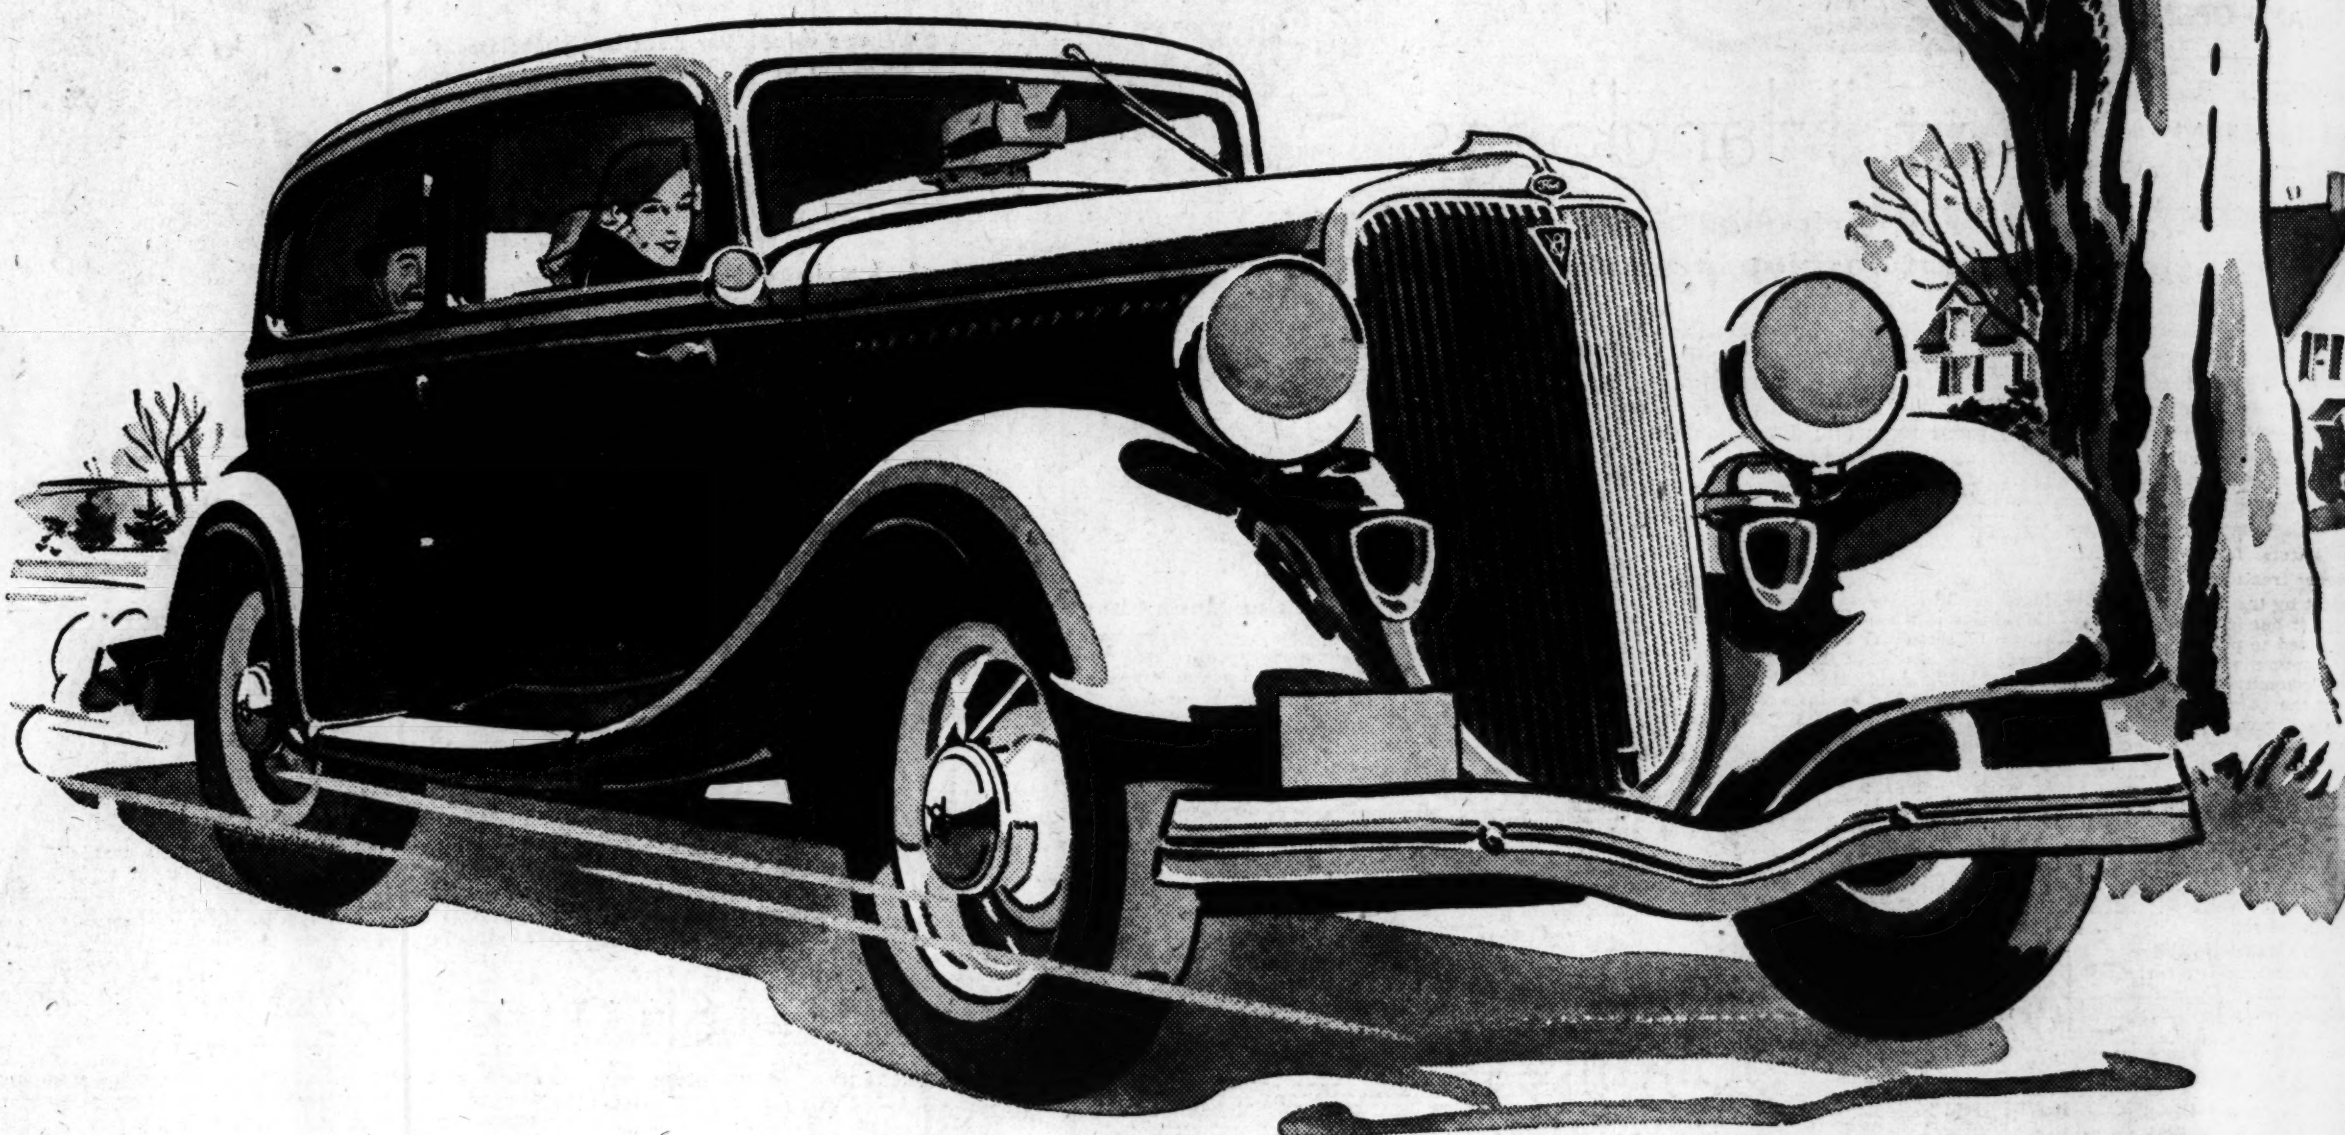

For the week ended Nov. 30, Hopkins said, 1,431,748 men were paid, with Missouri, Idaho, Wyoming and Vermont missing from the list. These states reported employment at the end of the first week of the campaign as follows: Missouri, 5000; Idaho, 1000; Wyoming, 700, and Vermont, 3000.

Hopkins said he expected the entire 4,000,000 men it is planned to employ to be at work by next Saturday. If they were not, he said,

NEW FORD V-8 for 1934

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The New Ford V-8 for 1934 will be on display tomorrow at the showrooms of Ford dealers. Surpassing even the great Ford of 1933 in economy, beauty and comfort, it is truly the car of this modern age—the culmination of thirty years Ford progress. It combines the proved performance of the V-8 cylinder engine with two important new features—Dual Carburetion and perfected Clear-vision Ventilation. See it and drive it at the first opportunity.

OUTSTANDING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NEW FORD V-8

BETTER PERFORMANCE. Greater power, new speed, quicker acceleration, smoother performance, more miles per gallon especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather—all these result from the new dual carburetor and dual intake manifold. New waterline thermostats enable the engine to warm up more quickly and to maintain an efficient operating temperature. Added engine refinements reduce oil consumption, further improve operating economy and reduce maintenance costs.

NEW VENTILATION SYSTEM permits clear vision, prevents drafts and provides desired amount of fresh air in any weather. Individual control for front and rear side windows. When ventilation is desired the window glass is raised to the top. Then the handle is given an additional half-turn. This slides the glass back horizontally to form a narrow slot, as illustrated. Through this slot air is drawn out by the forward motion of the car. This simple ventilation system maintains draft-free circulation, insures passenger comfort, prevents fogging windshield in cold or stormy weather. Both windshield and cowl ventilator can be opened to supply additional air needed for comfortable warm-weather driving.

DISTINCTIVE NEW APPEARANCE enhanced by the newly designed chromium-plated radiator shell and grille, new hood louvers, new hub caps. Interiors are attractive, with new tufted upholstery, new mouldings, new cove-type headlining, new instrument panel, new arm rests, new hardware. Swivel-type sun visors in De Luxe bodies prevent glare from front or side.

optional. New enamel finish on all bodies and fenders has greater wearing quality and more enduring luster.

GREATER RIDING COMFORT results from increased spring flexibility. The spring leaves are newly designed for quieter and easier action. Shock absorbers are improved. Seat cushions are deeper, with new, softer springs. New type, individual bucket seats provide increased comfort for front-seat passengers in the Tudor Sedan. Adding to comfort is the new driving ease of the 15-to-1 steering gear ratio.

MISSOURI LABOR DEMANDS ACTION ON UTILITY BILLS

Joint Legislative Committee of Unions Addresses Democratic Members of Senate Group.

CALLS FOR REPORT AND OPEN VOTE

Gov. Park's Proposal to Aid Municipal Ownership Held Seven Weeks and Still Suppressed.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 8.—The Missouri Joint Labor Legislative Committee, representing organized labor before the Legislature, sent to each Democratic member of the Senate Municipal Corporations Committee today a letter demanding that they report for Senate action Gov. Park's municipal utility bills. The letters followed continued curiously treatment of the bills last night by the committee, which, although it has had them for seven weeks, voted to postpone action for nearly another week. Two weeks ago the committee voted to report three of the bills unfavorably, and last night it reconsidered its action and postponed a report on them and on a House bill combining all their provisions.

The effect of the action of the committee in withholding the bills from the Senate in violation of a Senate rule is to prevent the Governor from obtaining a public opinion vote on them. Votes in the committee are secret.

H. H. Washburn Jr., secretary of the Joint Labor Committee, who signed the letter to the Senators, made no mention of the powerful public utility lobby which has opposed the bills, but he stressed the political effect on the Democratic party in the state which he said failure of the Legislature to give favorable action would have.

"I have been instructed by the Missouri Joint Labor Legislative Committee to advise you of the position of the committee with reference to the following legislation which now is being considered by the Municipal Corporations Committee, of which you are a member: 'The legislation which will permit cities of less than 75,000 to issue revenue bonds for certain public improvements.'

"By the passage of this legislation, the way will be cleared for such public construction which will employ great numbers of the unemployed and will carry out the purposes of the national and State administrations with reference to the recovery program."

Briefly, the position of the committee is that the Democratic administration of the State of Missouri should pass this legislation and we hope that your committee will join in this program.

Suggests Political Consequences. "Our committee represents the organized workers of the State of Missouri and we gave to the Democratic ticket in the last election our support, as never before, confident that the party would in turn give the people consideration in matters of this kind, and we frankly state to you that if this legislation is defeated we believe that it will be construed that you are turning a deaf ear to the great needs of the unemployed in this State in these critical times and in our opinion will reflect back to the party in whom we placed our full confidence."

"We trust that you will vote this legislation out and let the Senate have opportunity to pass judgment upon it."

D. W. Gramling, representing the labor group, appeared before the Municipal Corporations Committee last night at a public hearing on the Weakley House bill, which consolidated in one measure all the provisions of the four separate Senate bills authorizing construction of electric, gas, water and sewer plants through the issuance of revenue bonds. Gramling urged the passage of the bills both to provide employment and as a matter of right to the cities.

What Committee Has Done. At a meeting two weeks ago the committee voted to kill the electric, gas and water bills, and voted to report out the sewer bill, but with amendments virtually destroying its purpose. The committee then had the bills five weeks, although a Senate rule requires that bills shall be reported by committee within 10 days.

Notwithstanding the custom that bills shall be returned to the Senate the day following committee action on them, the four bills, acted on two weeks ago, were not sent back to the Senate. Senator Briggs, the chairman, made the explanation

5000 POLITICAL PRISONERS TO BE FREED IN PRUSSIA

Goering Orders Christmas Leniency at Concentration Camps, But Warns Against Opposing Nazi Policy.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Dec. 8.—Vice-Chancellor Hermann Goering has ordered a mass liberation of concentration camp inmates in Prussia soon before the Christmas holidays.

Goering stated that the Nazi regime was "thoroughly entrenched" and that maintenance of order within the state and suppression of Marxist and Communist movements would continue even if measures of preventive custody were relaxed.

The order left no doubt that German authorities would proceed with ruthless force against all who repay what was described as Nazi magnanimity with subversive action.

"They will be rendered immune forever," Goering said. He said the release of 5000 concentration camp inmates was made with the approval of Chancellor Hitler and was a result of the favorable vote in the Reichstag election.

"It is Hitler's wish to reincorporate these prisoners in the community of the people," he said. "Fathers of families will receive preferential treatment."

A similar order for the release of 5000 concentration camp prisoners has been issued by Bavarian police. Political prisoners have been in custody in concentration camps.

5-YEAR TARIFF TRUCE SOUGHT BY URUGUAY

Resolution at Pan-American Parley Calls for Rate Reduction to 1928 Basis.

By the Associated Press.
MONTVIDEO, Uruguay, Dec. 8.—A resolution was introduced in the Pan-American Conference yesterday calling for a restoration of tariffs to the basis of those in effect in 1928, before the Smoot-Hawley Act went into effect in the United States. Sponsored by Uruguay, the resolution says that on July 1, 1934, the 1928 duties should go into effect for five years.

A truce would be declared in effect until July 1, providing against changes in present duties.

Asking for immediate action, Uruguayan delegates said they hoped it would be possible to call all Pan-American Governments soon asking for adherence to the truce, pending the five-year agreement.

The Smoot-Hawley tariff measure has drawn criticism from several South American countries, which say it virtually bars their products to the United States. The resolution provides for restoration of duties to those in effect at the time of the Pan-American Conference in Havana five years ago.

Uruguay's program went before the Finance Committee. It calls for suppression of sanitary prohibitions on imports based upon "provable danger" and declares the quota licensing systems violate the principle of economic equality and rights of the most favored nations.

The Steering Committee adopted a subcommittee recommendation to refer Mexico's financial plan, involving a moratorium on public and private debts, to the Inter-American High Commission.

This body last met in 1923, but the United States has continued appropriations for it. Daniel C. Rogers, Secretary of Commerce of the United States, is chairman.

COUNT YAMAMOTO, FORMER PREMIER OF JAPAN, DIES

Naval Hero in War With Russia; Felt American Exclusion Act Insulted Nation.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, Dec. 8.—Count Gombel Yamamoto, 81 years old, twice Premier of Japan and a naval hero of the Russo-Japanese War, in which he served as an admiral, died tonight. He had been seriously ill with a complication of diseases.

Admiral Yamamoto, shortly after his graduation from the naval academy, served in the expedition against Formosa.

He accepted the post of Premier in 1913 while Japan was involved in the California land controversy with the United States. Count Yamamoto was the first Japanese to be elected to the post of Prime Minister, but he met considerable opposition from Prince Katsura and the old Constitutional party. His cabinet resigned after one year in office, following disclosures of a naval scandal. Japanese radicals at the time considered his downfall a blow to the system of clan government.

He was again appointed Premier in 1921, taking his post just at the time a terrific earthquake was shaking Japan.

Although he always maintained the friendliest relations with the United States, he felt that the Japanese had been insulted by the American exclusion act.

LIFE INSURANCE PRESIDENTS URGE RETURN TO GOLD

Idea of "Controlled Inflation, Idle Talk" Says Resolution by Heads of 57 Companies.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The association of Life Insurance Presidents, representing 57 life insurance companies, last night adopted a resolution urging that the "gold standard be maintained; that our currency be stabilized promptly; and that there will be no experiments with new monetary systems."

After the resolution was adopted a statement was issued which said: "Inflation always has proved to be dearly purchased; any immediate stimulus to business is rapidly exhausted; a reaction invariably sets in with a resulting demand for more of the same remedy; the stimulus of inflation is like that of a drug, and there is an ensuing depression which can be eased only by increasing the dose at the expense of final utter collapse."

"Inflation through political action has rarely been held within the limits designed or fixed. It seems idle to talk about controlled inflation in the face of practically all experience."

Duty to Policyholders.
The statement, issued, the executives said, as a "duty to policyholders," concluded: "We therefore urge that the gold standard be maintained; that our currency be stabilized promptly, and that the people be assured that there will be no experiments with new monetary systems. We are convinced that maintenance of the gold standard, the prompt stabilization of the currency, and assurance that nothing will be done to impair it, would do more than any other thing to restore confidence, to cause business to go forward, and to promote recovery."

"This country is the richest in the world and with great capacity for further creation of wealth. With returning confidence it should resume its course toward an even greater and wider prosperity and well-being."

Gov. McNutt of Indiana spoke to the executives earlier in the meeting and criticized repudiation of obligations by state and municipal governments. He said such defaults are "unthinkable" and bring misfortune to "great numbers of our population which have savings invested in municipal securities" and to life insurance companies whose holdings of such securities "is an absolute essential part of the credit structure of the nation."

Sen. Reed of Missouri, who spoke last night, said he would support the resolution to pay the Government's expenses and refund the national debt by unsecured paper currency, a considerable margin.

"I pray the President may have the courage and strength to resist the pressure for direct inflation. If he does, it will be my privilege and the privilege of the other Republicans in Congress to fight beside him."

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 8.—United States Senator David A. Reed, in a speech before a joint meeting of the Philadelphia Board of Trade and the Manufacturers and Bankers' Clubs yesterday, said: "If a vote were taken today in the national Legislature on the proposition to pay the Government's expenses and refund the national debt by unsecured paper currency, I believe it would pass by a considerable margin."

Government Urges Binding of Locks to Aid Ribbon Makers.

BERLIN, Dec. 8.—The young woman with long blond plaits again is becoming the German ideal of feminine beauty.

The revival, stimulated by officialism, is based on the fact that long locks need ribbons and the ribbon industry is languishing. Nazi statisticians figure that if all German mothers bind their daughters behind their hair, there will be an immediate daily demand for close to 2,000,000 yards of ribbon.

REPORT BY ROSENWALD FUND $2,000,000 Spent Last Two Years, Including School Aid.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Edwin R. Embree, president of the Julius Rosenwald fund, says in his biennial report that the work of the fund in building school houses for Negroes in the South has been so successful that the fund will be able to withdraw from the program.

The report said that some $2,000,000 had been paid out on educational and philanthropic programs during the last two fiscal years despite the fact that the income of the fund has ceased. The payments were made, Embree said, by using principal funds. Since the work began, 5300 school houses have been built in 383 counties in 15 Southern states.

U. S. DRY REPEAL PRESENTS 'SERIOUS PROBLEM' IN CANADA

Montreal Paper Points Out That Several Provinces 'Lean Heavily on the Sale of Liquor.'

By the Associated Press.
MONTREAL, Dec. 8.—The Montreal Gazette says a "serious problem" has been created for provinces which "lean so heavily on the sale of liquor" by the repeal of constitutional prohibition in the United States.

As a result, the newspaper says, Canada's relations with the United States in connection with liquor probably will be brought before the forthcoming conference of Provincial Premiers.

"The salvation of the provincial treasuries lies only in Ottawa agreeing to reduce materially the excise duties on Canadian liquor, home-made or from abroad," the Gazette says.

Of affairs in Quebec alone, the newspaper adds that "leaving aside the question of bootlegging from the United States to Canada, sales of the Quebec Liquor Commission to a fairly large extent have been due to buying by citizens of the United States and by those sending supplies across the border."

CONVICTS ON FRENCH PRISON SHIP ATTEMPT TO REVOLT

Reports That 40 Were Killed by Jets of Hot Steam Are Denied.

By the Associated Press.
ALGIERS, Algeria, Dec. 8.—Two or three convicts aboard the French prison ship La Martinique, en route to the French prison colony in Guiana, attempted to revolt against their guards on the passage between St. Martin de Re and Algiers, it was announced here last night.

Reports that 40 prisoners had been killed by jets of hot steam were denied. The rebellious prisoners were put in irons.

Confined to eight zoo-like cages, the prisoners are herded about like cattle and watched with the utmost vigilance to prevent an outbreak of violence.

Forty guards watch their movements day and night. Live steam is kept in overhead pipes to be turned on the prisoners in case of emergency.

COMMONS VOTES TO END NEWFOUNDLAND SELF-RULE

Approves Proposal for Britain to Exert Control Until Finances Are Restored.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Dec. 8.—The House of Commons last night adopted a resolution which would temporarily withdraw self-government from Newfoundland. The vote was 227 to 88.

Under the report of the Newfoundland Royal Commission, Great Britain would exert control over the island dominion until its finances are restored.

SCIENTIST TELLS RESULT OF FLIGHT TO STRATOSPHERE

Dr. A. H. Compton, Chicago U., Says It Failed to Settle Dispute Over Nature of Cosmic Ray.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Preliminary findings indicating that science may enhance greatly its knowledge of the elusive cosmic rays as result of the recent ascension into the stratosphere by two Americans, were announced today by Dr. Arthur H. Compton, University of Chicago physicist.

Dr. Compton, who with Dr. R. A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, is interested in the cosmic ray data obtained by Lieutenant-Commander T. G. W. Settle and Maj. C. L. Fordney on their flight from Akron, O., last Nov. 20, made his first official report to the National Academy of Science for publication in the January issue of its monthly.

First of all, he said, that data computed so far from readings of instruments placed in the gondola of the balloon by himself and Dr. Millikan did not settle their dispute over the nature of the rays. However, it was learned that the rays are 100 times greater in the stratosphere than at sea level.

"Both Dr. Millikan and myself are confident that the information obtained was so excellent that it is only a matter of time until our individual theories are sustained or disproved," he said.

Where Scientists Disagree.
Dr. Compton, Nobel prize winner in 1927, holds to the theory that the rays are molecular—that is, electrically charged particles—while Dr. Millikan maintains they are light waves resulting from the formation of heavy atoms in interstellar space. In an attempt to learn the nature and origin of the rays, two tests were made. For one an unshielded ionization chamber was installed in the gondola and for the other an ionization chamber shielded by the equivalent of a sheet of solid lead to keep out other rays. As the balloon rose to the layer of thin air surrounding

Problem of Closed Banks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
WHAT about all the promises that were uttered by those in authority in regard to the quick reopening, quick rehabilitation and, in rare cases, quick liquidation of the banks?
Nine long months have passed and still some national banks that were and are under the direct supervision of the Federal Government, and members of the Federal Reserve System, are closed and have not paid their depositors one penny, while other national banks will pay their depositors only a part of their deposits. People were encouraged by much advertising with Federal sanction to deposit a part of their earnings in a national bank as a reserve for exigencies; but, when the gravest exigency arrived, some bank depositors are unable to secure their hard-earned savings. Instead, they can go to a Federal relief agency and get a bag of flour and some salt pork. Are the promises to be redeemed, or are they as empty as the supervising proved to be?

Plea for Plain English.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THIS is the day of the New Deal. For that, three cheers and a couple of huzzas! Why, then, in the name of heaven, can't organized society find some means of throttling some of the feminine advertising writers, a sure radio announcers and superficial screen actors and actresses who insist upon imposing a sophisticated brand of adulterated English upon the American public?
DIOGENES.

Tribute to Huey.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
EDITORIALS in your paper and others make it clear there is a concerted effort to impair the usefulness of that great American statesman, the Hon. Huey P. Long of Louisiana, a man that overthrew the rotten bunch of Wall Street buccanniers that ever infested any state.
J. E. KING.

The Sound Dollar Parole.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
IT is farcical to prate about a "sound dollar" when that dollar means the American farmer, for example, must pay $4 for every $1 of farm mortgage incurred in 1920, as a result of having to sell 1920 $1 worth for 25 cents during the late Hoover regime. A sound dollar is thus merely an alias for a speculative monetary unit employed by the conscienceless Shylocks whose sole profession is selling American shorts.
DONALD P. BEARD.

Jefferson City.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
For the Child Labor Amendment.
WHEN people with twisted minds and uncontrolled imagination make public their stand in opposition to the child labor amendment, I am sure that the American public will unite and take their stand in favor of it. Thank heaven, my children are old enough for me to recognize them in a crowd, and "destroying their birth records" cannot keep their "mother from knowing them or they, their mother."
GEORGE E. DUEMLER.

Fire Insurance Situation.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I SHOULD like to know why such dilatory tactics are employed in settling the litigation over the 16-23 per cent increase in fire insurance rates. The amount of the increase is still held in trust, probably drawing interest, and no apparent action is being taken for the reversion of this money to the policyholders. Is there no balm in Gilead for who are in the toils of the Philistines?
J. D. B.

Majority Rule.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
CERTAINLY hope the Democratic Senate will be demagogic enough to consent to majority rule. Nothing could be fairer than to permit a majority to decide whether a city should own and operate its light and water systems, etc. Farmers citizens remember a defeat a few years ago by a very small number less than two-thirds on waterworks bonds. Any legislator not willing to vote for majority rule should be denied return to the Legislature unless he is elected by a two-thirds majority. T. C. KNIGHT.

For Drastic Inheritance Taxes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I DISAGREE with your observation, in speaking of income taxes, that "we have seen how difficult it is to bring about in any other way a fair distribution of the national income." Surely, the results after the number of years the income tax has been in force do not bear out this statement. Until we have more drastic inheritance taxes, then and only then shall we see this fair distribution brought about.
H. G. DOERNHOEFER.

STATUS OF THE RECOVERY ACT.

To appreciate the stress under which the National Recovery Act was born, we have only to read "The Roosevelt Revolution," by Ernest K. Lindley, a reporter for the New York Herald Tribune. Mr. Lindley was assigned to the President in the campaign. This excellent record makes plain enough what happened. The Recovery Act was the child of Chaos. Great industries like oil and coal were pressing for Federal intervention. Forward-looking industrialists, like Gerard Swope of General Electric and Henry I. Harriman, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, were pressing for a tripartite partnership between Government, industry and labor. President Green of the American Federation of Labor was pressing for collective bargaining.

The result of all these importunities was what we call the NIRA, an outgrowth of the Black bill, which had been passed by the Senate. It was impossible that a piece of legislation improvised in an emergency should meet the test of time. The Recovery Act was perhaps the most astounding piece of legislation in all history. It attempted to harness a tornado. Everybody realized this. Nobody claimed for it anything more than that it might serve in an emergency. The act itself was limited to two years, its licensing feature to one year.

Expectations of the act were too sanguine. It is a question whether or not they have done any harm. There is a disposition to feel that they have served an excellent purpose. The morale of the people is improved. The Recovery Act did buoy them up. If it did not put as many people to work as such enthusiasts as Gen. Johnson had imagined, it still did rally the nation out of the doldrums and face us toward that recovery in our approach to which we have never faltered. We are as far removed from the black abyss of last March as were the children of Israel removed from Pharaoh when they had put the Red Sea behind them.

The question now is how we can adapt the principle of the Recovery Act to our immensely complicated affairs. That there are some palpable errors in it is beyond question. It was a mistake to give industry the right to enter into trade associations and make its own prices. The consequence of this almost everywhere has been to put commodities beyond the reach of the people. The act must be revised to make capital take a reasonable profit. An unreasonable profit defeats itself. All the industries which have suffered from this folly are quite aware that this is so. They realize that if business men get together in restraint, they can agree only upon what is inordinate. Greed has the biggest voice.

The Recovery Act presumed too much on the enlightened self-interest of industry. It assumed that to abate the anti-trust laws would encourage industry to be reasonable, would influence it to correct those evils which had been its undoing. In the main, Congress was mistaken. The disposition in almost every industry has been to avail itself of association without making any sacrifice in return. The quid pro quo for which Congress had looked has not usually been forthcoming. The truth about most of the trade associations is that, while they did increase pay and decrease hours, they multiplied that added cost many times when they came to their own profits.

The American Manufacturers' Association reports that 98 per cent of its members are against the collective bargaining feature of the Recovery Act. There is a widespread feeling in industry that it was a mistake to incorporate this clause in the law. This illustrates the enormous difficulty of equalizing our lopsided national economy. Some of the industrialists feel that there should be a fairer distribution of wealth, but they do not agree that a depression is a good time in which to undertake it. There is a great deal of truth in that. The experience of the country has been that, whereas the relation of labor to capital has improved in prosperity, labor has usually lost most of its gains in depression. Many business men who sincerely co-operated with the NRA found themselves burdened with added cost, without a sufficient increase of business and profit to meet it. In other words, we could not revive business by merely blowing the whistle. We must be content with a gradual recovery. We cannot expect to retrieve in a day what it has taken us four years to lose.

We feel that the Recovery Act has served an excellent purpose; that its social gains alone have justified it; that it has forever turned our faces in the way we must go; that it has ended our long reluctance to turn our backs upon laissez-faire. We readily admit its faults, as we sympathize greatly with the feeling that to abate the anti-trust laws upon any score can never be altogether justified; that it must always chiefly result in delivering the people into the clutches of monopoly.

Nevertheless, we feel that the evolution of the act could only begin exactly as it did begin. If we are patient, thoughtful, reasonable, we can make it the means of regulating capitalism and preserving personal initiative. We look to the men who gave us the Recovery Act to modify it in the light of our experience with it. All such things are at the outset essentially hit or miss. It is the way of human progress. If labor has presumed too much upon the Government's backing, that can be corrected. If capital has exploited abrogation of the anti-trust laws, that, too, can be corrected.

There is a way, and we will find it.

ST A QUART.

Representative John J. Cochran of St. Louis is accounted among the most valuable members of Congress. In his long official career, we cannot recall, offhand, any judgment of his from which we rendered a dissenting opinion. But his present dictum that $7 a quart for whisky, no matter how old, is outrageous, seems to us an emotional verdict rather than the studied conclusion of profound research and rapturous remembrance. Time, generally speaking, is a monstrous adversary. It ravages beauty, as that Yankee troubadour testified in

The money marbles rest
On the lips that he had pressed
In their bloom.

Time steals away our strength. It cools the ardor. It slows us down. But one achievement of art, one triumph of genius, that laughs at the years, that somehow contrives a more fragrant bouquet, a richer aroma, a finer, purer soul, as it were, is whisky. Would Mr. Cochran, on reflection, say that $7 were an unconscionable price for a quart of the bluegrass bourbon that Pericles and Aspasia chatted over in the vesper hour of an Athenian day? What about that celestial brand which Cleopatra served to Antony as certified pre-war stuff? Or a peg of that Scotch in which Essex toasted Elizabeth?
Mr. Cochran is all right in denouncing the extortion which the purveyors of contemporaneous liquor are practicing. The boycott he advocates, if unannouncedly applied, were at once good counsel and an eloquent temperance lecture. But there is, or supposedly could be, whisky which gold could not measure, nor pearls, nor rubies; whisky that would make the Olympian ambrosia taste like hootch. Let us never forget that history is always there with a machine gun when indignation spreads her wings too wide.

A MUNICIPAL GAS PLANT.

Advising the citizens of St. Louis to give serious consideration to the establishment of a municipal gas plant, Associate City Counselor Forrest G. Ferris Jr. has marshaled some logical arguments in support of the proposal.

From his long experience as a legal expert representing the city in its many controversies with utility companies over the rates they charge, Mr. Ferris has acquired a perspective that takes in the broad scope of the problem. He has reached the conclusion that St. Louis has little hope of lower gas rates from the private company now serving it. This appears to him to be particularly unjust, since gas is supplied by other companies at lower rates in St. Louis County and in many smaller cities of Missouri.

Speaking before a neighborhood protective association Wednesday night, he said:
The conclusion seems inescapable that St. Louis could furnish a more satisfactory gas service at lower rates, than could ever be hoped for from the Laclede Gas Light Co.

He used the St. Louis waterworks, publicly owned and operated for 98 years, as an example of efficiency of municipal ownership. To the critics who fear graft and waste in public ownership, he replied with typical instances of holding company methods whereby operating utility companies are milked for the benefit of a controlling group, adding to operating expenses and making rate reductions impossible. He told of some of the methods of the holding company controlling the Laclede Gas Light Co.

Speaking of public ownership in general, Mr. Ferris said:

Municipal ownership is a permanent investment. It is a collective endeavor for mutual benefit at the least cost. Unlike private ownership, it is not subject to the ills of speculation, for which someone always has to pay. The city has ample constitutional, statutory and charter authority to carry out such a program, Mr. Ferris said. It has power to issue public utility bonds up to 10 times as much as would be required for a gas plant. Such bonds would be paid out of revenues of the plant and would not call for additional taxation.

And such a program, Mr. Ferris observed, may be set in motion either by ordinance or by initiative petition. It is that simple. It is also the only way out of an intolerable situation. The cities, if they will, can own and operate all their public utilities, give their people fair rates, and still use for their own growing needs millions of dollars now going to profiteers.

AMNESTY FOR LIQUOR PRISONERS.

Nothing becomes us so much as magnanimity. Grant said after Appomattox, "Let us have peace." The historical stature of the Emperor Marcus Aurelius is largely due to his great reputation for having been merciful, despite his treatment of the Christians. Following the World War, our own Government was magnanimous enough to free the political prisoners. We have these illustrious examples to guide us in the matter of prohibition. It is estimated at Washington that there are some 3000 Federal prisoners who were convicted under the Volstead Act. In the states, there are possibly as many more.

The eighteenth amendment is dead, and the laws which derived from it will soon follow it into oblivion. In the picturesque phrase of Federal Judge Faris, "The Constitution has been jerked from under them." Nothing is to be gained by continuing to keep these people in penal servitude. If their offense was nothing more than to violate a sumptuary law against which the whole people have at last rebelled, we should extend amnesty to them. We should let bygones be bygones. It is the fair and decent thing to do. It has also the economic virtue of stopping an unnecessary expense to the nation and the states.

MR. EASTMAN ASKS QUESTIONS.

Railroad Co-ordinator Eastman is not the man to shut himself up in an ivory tower and emerge later with a sacrosanct formula for dealing with the problems under his supervision. He wants to know what the people think about the transportation problem. To find out, he has mailed to 600,000 rail and motor travelers a "passenger ballot," a booklet of 24 pages that fairly bristles with interrogation points. "I need your help in this job," Mr. Eastman frankly states in the booklet, "for I lack accurate information concerning the public's travel habits, its uses of various kinds of transportation and its wants." So he asks the travelers' opinion about 90-mile-an-hour trains, gasoline mileage, baggage service, train and highway facilities, what fares would stimulate railroad business and so on. It is encouraging to know that the commuter, the traveling salesman and the motor and rail tourist will have something to say about the New Deal in transportation. And it may well be that some of their ideas will take precedence over those of the experts in Washington.

MR. ROOSEVELT ON LYNCHINGS.

The President's address of Wednesday night was an admirable summary of the ideals of social justice that have been made plain in his past utterances and actions, dedicated to the great objective of what he terms "a more abundant life" for all the people. He applied his guiding principle not only to the tasks of recovery, but in scathing comment upon "that vile form of collective murder—lynch law." The President condemned the mobs that wrought these murders and those who condoned the mobs. He did more. He went behind the turbulent passions that resort to rope and torch, behind the intolerance and venal spirit that stimulate mobs to action.

The function "of protection of the individual and of the community through quick and certain justice" . . . in many places has fallen into a state of disrepair," the President said. Lynchings may still occur even after our court system has been reformed, as the President has indicated it must be. In England, however, whose conduct of judiciary and bar is a model for the world, mob murder is unknown. Judge Lynch could not convene his grisly court so frequently if public faith in the courts of law and order were strengthened.

AFTER ALL THAT TROUBLE GETTING IN.

TODAY and TOMORROW

By Walter Lippmann

Pagan Ethics and Banking

IN connection with the President's remarks about the "pagan ethics" of "those in high places who seek to line their own nests with other people's money," it is interesting to look at some suggestions recently presented to the Pecora committee by Winthrop W. Aldrich of the Chase National Bank. Mr. Aldrich is the man who, since he became the executive head of the bank in January, has been dealing with the mess of his predecessor, Albert H. Wiggin. He has been also the most conspicuous and articulate Wall Street figure who has publicly recognized that there have been gross evils in high finance and has tried to exercise moral leadership in regard to them.

His memorandum to the Senate committee covers many matters, but immediately the most interesting are those which constitute what might be called an attempt to codify certain banking practices which should be "outlawed." Point No. 1 is that officers of a bank should be required to disclose all their personal loans, above a nominal amount, to the board of the bank. The purpose of this, of course, is to prevent bank officers from being influenced by their own private interests.

Point No. 2 is that bank officers should be prohibited from participating directly or indirectly in syndicates, trading accounts and pools. This is to prevent them from being influenced by personal considerations when, as officers, they have to consider loans to syndicates. Point No. 3 is that officers should be compelled to disclose to their board all their outside business and financial connections. This is to prevent them from using the bank to favor outside interests.

This is a rough summary of some of Mr. Aldrich's suggestions. There are others of a similar character. They are all variations on the same theme, and they amount to saying that, as a general rule, a man cannot faithfully serve two masters. This is the ethical principle which includes all the specific rules that Mr. Aldrich has come to think are necessary.

That he has come very close to the central evil of the banking trouble seems to me to be evident. It is often said, by way of extenuation for what happened in the banks, that the boom made everyone a little crazy and that most of the ensuing trouble was due to mistakes of judgment rather than to immoral practices. The explanation does not go deep enough. It does not explain why so many terrible mistakes of judgment were made by men who now recognize that these mistakes consisted in ignoring the plainest and clearest traditions of sound banking.

What caused men to forget their traditions? The answer to that question is what we must seek. I think the answer is that men forgot the rule that you cannot serve two masters, engaged themselves in all sorts of dual and ambiguous relationships, and so the clarity of their judgment was destroyed.

Think, for example, of an overbearing and forceful man like Charles E. Mitchell, acting at one and the same time as a director of the Federal Reserve Bank and as the salesman of new security issues. What chance was there that he would favor a prudent credit policy which such a policy would make it most difficult to sell his stocks? Think of Mr. Wiggin, drawing salaries from corporations that were borrowing from his bank. It is hard enough for any man to use his judgment when he has a single interest. But when he has two conflicting interests, it is too much to hope that his personal bias will not prevail.

In the public service and in the professions, it has long been recognized that interlocking and ambiguous personal relationships are immoral. In politics, a man who is in the pay of a private interest which is in any way affected by his public actions is regarded as a crook. A lawyer who takes fees from the two parties to a suit would be liable to be disbarred. A professor of economics who is on the payroll of a public utility loses the right to pretend that his observations on utilities are scholarly.

All professional men who have any sensitiveness and awareness know that they must scrupulously avoid the influence on their own minds of a dual interest. The other day, for example, I was talking with a friend of mine, a very good newspaper man, about what he ought to do about his own savings at a time like this. He writes a good deal about monetary policy.

"What I have done," he said, "is to divide what I possess exactly in half. One part I have put in Government bonds, the other in common stocks. As nearly as I have been able to arrange it, I won't stand to gain or lose if we have inflation or do not have it, and so I won't find myself wishing for one policy or the other. Then perhaps I'll be able to think clearly about them."

That is, in substance, what every man has to try to do who has to exercise judgment affecting the interests of others. He has to put his personal relationships in such condition that he can be loyal and disinterested.

So Mr. Aldrich, is, I believe, on the right track when he condemns the practices in banks which mean that officers are on two sides of transactions. His proposals are, of course, only specific illustrations of a broad moral principle, and unless the moral principle itself is understood and generally applied, these specific rules will have little effect because they will easily be circumvented.

My own view is that the capitalist system cannot be preserved unless the principle of disinterestedness governs the conscience of the leaders of that system. Unless bankers and corporate executives can be administered only by men whose judgment is not confused by ambiguous private interest, they will be unable to operate modern business and finance successfully, and some other form of collective operation will take its place.

You cannot make private capitalism work if the mentality and the morality of men like Mitchell and Wiggin govern at the points of vital decision. Nor with men who are personally more upright but inclined to

A Trade View of Tugwell Bill

From the Canning Trade.

ALL industry is in a new day, forced to face new conditions, and the canning industry, in self-protection, must keep in step. The first consideration relates to the new pure food law, which undoubtedly will be passed in the early days of the new Congress. Our readers have been given a good general view of this law, and the general feeling is that this new law really has "teeth." It has, and it needs must have, for the old law has been proved lamentably weak.

There are those who say that the new law is too strong, too drastic, too rigid, and the extremists even go so far as to say that it will drive them completely out of business, and they are bitter in their attacks upon the drafters and proponents of the new law.

You who are old in this business and can recall the days, back in 1908-09, when the original pure food law was proposed and debated, will find in these utterances a faint echo of similar bitter protests against the original pure food law. Before its passage, our industry lined up with the opponents, and there were those who predicted the end of the canning industry; that Dr. Wiley was an extremist and crank and should not be allowed his way, etc., etc. They were worse in their accusations than the first proposed law than are the opponents today.

But there are many in the food industry that would be willing to scrap the pure food laws today? Not a single sensible man. And as history has a habit of repeating itself, you may expect to see the same results in this instance, because the proponents of the new law have had the experiences of the old one to go on; they are not dealing in the dark, not striving to hurt the food and drug business, but aiming to correct abuses and to help, not harm. And that is right in line with the temper of our people and of our legislators. So the new law will be enacted, because it is needed.

WHAT IS TEMPERANCE?

From the New York World-Telegram.

TEMPERANCE," declares Mrs. Ida T. U., "means total abstinence, not moderation."

This is an intemperate definition of temperance, we think, and has been ever since prohibitionists first tried to narrow the meaning of the word to fit their touchy taste-not admission.

To "temper" is to moderate or regulate, not to abolish or abjure. "Temperate use" of a thing becomes sheer contradiction in terms if we pretend it means not to use the thing at all. The total abstinence society at least chose a title that does no violence to the language.

With repeal of the eighteenth amendment, we should try to reclaim the word "temperance" and restore its proper meaning of moderation, regulation and self-control. We insist that temperance shall mean absolute abstinence from alcohol is neither temperate, accurate nor even intelligent.

say, "Poor old Charlie," and "Poor old Al" it really is too bad, and let it go at that. Nor can you make capitalism work by moderating it from the outside. There will be a revolutionary change of heart from within, a change of ethical standards comparable with the change in the political life of mankind which began in England in the eighteenth century, when the conception of office as a public trust began to supplant the conception of it as a private hereditary possession.

The DAILY WA
MERRY GO

By DREW PEARSON and R

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.
THE drive against liberal forces within the New Deal now looks like a death battle. One side or the other—the Left or the Right—is going to have to get out. The fight at present is centering on two things. One is the securities bill, branded by bankers and brokers as stifling the money market. The other is the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

In the latter are two distinct groups. One—the liberals—is headed by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. The other—the conservatives—is headed by George Peek, co-administrator of AAA.

Wallace has gathered around him a group of progressives, some of the hardest fighters in the New Deal. They include Prof. Tugwell, Legal Counsel Jerome Frank, Economic Adviser Ezekiel, Consumers' Counsel Howe, Paul Appleby and Gardner Jackson.

The drive against them is being led by groups of meat packers, tobacco companies and milk dealers, whose codes they have opposed. The strategy of the attack is to brand the Wallace group as "Reds." The plan is to pick off one man at a time. The attack is now centering on Tugwell. Various interests want him out of the picture. They have two big things against him. He is author of the pure food and drugs act and of the liquor control code.

What few people know is that in both of these, Tugwell is the goat. He was merely carrying out instructions. Roosevelt himself ordered him to draw up the food and drug act. Tugwell is the chief supporter. The liquor control plan was ordered by Wallace—but Tugwell got the blame.

So Tugwell is branded a dangerous "Red." Confidential business letters are broadcasting this. Several business concerns are putting out press releases with the same implication. Both Wallace and Roosevelt, however, are backing him 100 per cent.

Fundamental Issue.
THE fundamental issue between Wallace and Peek is simple. Peek is an old McNary-Haugen man. He believes in boosting farm production, finding foreign markets.

Wallace claims there are no foreign markets to speak of. Present statistics bear him out. He says the only solution is the limitation of crop production.

SAYS BARNEY'S STORES
LOST $7000 A MONTH

Banker Testifies at Hearing; Head of Firm Bought Assets
at Half Price.

A receiver's private sale for $38,000 to the president of the bankrupt Barney Grosberg, Inc., of company assets with a book value of about $80,000, is under scrutiny in bankruptcy court. The company operated "army goods" stores at Tenth street and Washington avenue and 6202 Easton avenue.

The purchaser, Barney Grosberg, setting for Barney's, Inc., a new corporation now operating the stores, assumed a $300 settlement of a claim under a mortgage on company property and agreed to pay expenses of the receivership. The assets transferred included 20 per cent of a fire loss claim of $88,000 against insurance companies.

After the receiver, George B. Kyle, had told of the sale and other receivership matters yesterday, where in bankruptcy court he said, "This is a most unusual case—in my 15 years' experience I have never had one like it."

Additional testimony that a Creditors' Committee representing 80 per cent of the claims had approved the sale, however, led him to remark that he would have been very considerable effort on behalf of the creditors if he had been informed fully of the circumstances.

Three "Impartial" Appraisers. Other testimony that evoked his first comment was the receiver's statement that the names of three appraisers presented to the referee as "impartial" had been handed to the receiver by the attorney for the bankrupt. Ben Shifrin, attorney for the bankrupt, said he had not noted the appraisers, but had merely agreed on them with the attorney for the Creditors' Committee and the petitioning creditors.

W. C. Connett, a vice-president of the First National Bank in St. Louis and a member of the creditors' committee, said the committee, representing four banks and three large merchandise creditors, was formed primarily to continue the business while efforts were being made to collect the insurance.

"Then we found the business was being at the rate of about $7000 a month, we couldn't get a bulk bid and couldn't sell the property probably at retail," he said, "so we made a deal with Grosberg that gave us the most cash with a good prospect of collecting the insurance."

"Best We Could Do." Thomas McPheters, attorney for the committee, said the creditors had agreed to the terms of the sale before the bankruptcy petition was filed against the company July 27. "We felt it was the best we could do," he said, "and we regarded it simply as carrying out in the receivership a deal that already had been approved."

The sale had been confirmed in August during the absence of Coles Referee Plowman of Hannibal, after he had been informed of the creditors' approval.

Trustee Edward W. Tobin brought out that the sale included merchandise and fixtures, on which the three appraisers had placed a value of $40,000, accounts listed at a face value of $2300, bank stock carried at $1475, and claims against officers totalling $35,297. The claims listed in the schedules were $28,235 against Barney Grosberg, $6116 against his brother, David, and $50 against his father, M. J. Grosberg.

The hearing was continued to Dec. 20.

SCIENTIST TELLS RESULT OF FLIGHT TO STRATOSPHERE

The earth the rays set up an electrical current in the ionization chambers.

"Both sets of apparatus for measuring the ionization were self-recording," Dr. Compton said, "and gave satisfactory records. Due in part to an unexpected rapid rotation of the balloon, the program of directional experiments could not be completed, although valuable data on the number of rays were obtained."

Oscillations Spoil Some Tests. The oscillations of the gondola also made impossible use of the adaptable support for the quartz spectrograph, and attempts to secure spectrograms by holding the instrument in the hands were unsatisfactory.

Whereas Commander Settle had planned originally to make the ascent alone, Dr. Compton said it was fortunate that Maj. Fordney had gone also. Even with the balloon aloft eight hours he said the found themselves pressed for time and were unable to make all the readings scheduled beforehand.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1933

Dr. Compton said the flight proved also the error of those who have maintained that the sky at great heights is black instead of blue. By using a hand spectrocope he said Maj. Fordney found the sky close to the horizon to be white due to clouds. Higher up it shaded into a steel blue and then into a saffron yellow, due, apparently, to light scattered from distant cirrus clouds.

"Above this highest layer of cloudy or hazy air, the color shaded rapidly through green to a deep blue," he said. "This blue showed no tinge of purple or violet."

Heavy Drift of Balloon.

One of the unusual results of the flight he said was the 50-mile an hour drift of the balloon in the stratosphere.

This, he said, was partly explained by the discovery that air currents in the stratosphere are swift in the fall and winter, and virtually motionless during summer months. He pointed to the fact that both the Picard and Russian balloons descended within a few miles from their starting points, whereas the Settle-Fordney expedition was carried almost third of the way across the continent to come down on a New Jersey marsh.

MISSOURI LABOR DEMANDS ACTION

That Senate leaders desired that they be delayed in order that nothing of a controversial nature should be injected into the Senate while the liquor control bill was under consideration on the floor.

In an executive session following the House hearing last night, the committee rescinded its former action and held the bills, along with the Weiskley bill, for further consideration.

Chairman Briggs said that when the committee began comparing the bills with the House bills, it found that the four Senate bills were practically the same as the one House bill, a fact which has been published frequently, and which everybody in the Legislature, except, apparently, the committee members, had known for nearly two months. He said the committee decided to reconsider its vote on the Senate bills and to consider them with the House bill.

The next meeting of the committee will be Monday night, but there is no available information as to whether they will be acted on then. Asked about the situation of the or whether they will be postponed bills following last night's action, as they have been at every meeting the chairman said: "They seem to at which they have been considered, be about back where they started."

ST. LOUIS SYMPHONY GIVES SECOND STUDENT CONCERT

Children in Enthusiastic Reception for Charles Skilton's "Indian War Dance."

In the season's second student concert, yesterday afternoon at the Odeon, the St. Louis Symphony played to an enthusiastic audience of school children, which was called on to participate in one number, Beethoven's "Creation Hymn," and acquitted itself rather well. The first part of the program was devoted to numbers illustrating the tone qualities of the woodwind choir.

Unquestionably the most successful selection Mr. Golschmann made for this concert was Charles Skilton's "Indian War Dance," from the "Suite Primitive," which obtained so enthusiastic a reception that it had to be repeated twice.

The primitive character of the Indian melodies, presented with orchestration that favored the percussion section and placed particular emphasis on stirring bravura passages, was calculated to bring an appreciative surge of elemental emotion from the child audience. The response was contagious and general, proving that Mr. Golschmann had made a brilliant choice and that the orchestra had responded appropriately.

The rest of the program was also well received, much of it stressing the novelties of tone effects and depending on the melodious character of the selections. It included parts of Bach's Second Suite in B Minor, for flute and strings, Debussy's "Arabesque," and the last movement from Beethoven's Seventh Symphony. Laurant Torno distinguished himself by his rendition of the solo parts of the Bach, giving a smooth and artistic performance.

NEW THEORY IN MURDER

Doctor Says Illinois Man Was Alive When Placed on Tracks.

PEKIN, Ill., Dec. 8.—Dr. A. E. Allen, former Tazewell County Coroner, yesterday told the Circuit Court jury before whom John Petji of East Peoria, is on trial for the murder of Lewis Nelan, that Nelan was alive when he was placed on the railroad tracks where his body was found.

The State contends Petji placed Nelan on the railroad, where he was killed by a train, after a quarrel at a party at the Petji residence in August, 1932. Edward Hufelt and Frank Keayes Jr. were alleged by the State to have admitted helping place the body on the tracks, but Judge Joseph E. Daily refused to permit admission of the confessions as evidence. Charges against the two had been not pressed.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—P. Hal Sims of Deal, N. J., and three members of the 1932 championship team led last night after the first rounds of play in the American Bridge League's national tournament contract team-of-four event.

Sims' teammates are E. J. Becker, Philadelphia, and S. G. Churchill and Waldemar von Zedwitz, both of New York. All except Sims were on the 1932 championship team. Sims replaces George Reith of New York, who was unable to play here. It was learned that a prominent player had been reprimanded by the league's executive committee for alleged unethical conduct.

Maurice Maschke and G. W. Parrott of Cleveland, withdrew from the open contract event yesterday, and it was officially announced that pressure of business required Maschke's return home.

Let the clouds go rolling by

WHEN you're healthy, you're happy! But when you're feeling badly, nothing seems to go right.

The blame for "blue" days can often be laid to common constipation. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy.

Yet the most common types of constipation can be relieved easily and pleasantly by a delicious ready-to-eat cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Inside the intestines, it absorbs moisture, gently extending and helping to cleanse them of wastes. Isn't this better than taking patent medicines?

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will correct most types of constipation. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

You can be sure of getting ALL BRAN, and not part bran, by looking at the label. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

IMPORTANT

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains nothing but all bran with a small percentage of flavor. It is recommended as much more efficient in relieving common constipation than part-bran products which cannot contain as much "bulk."

'THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER' MANUSCRIPT TO BE AUCTIONED

Francis Scott Key's First Complete Draft Will Be Sold in New York Jan. 5.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 8.—Francis Scott Key's manuscript of "The Star Spangled Banner," will be sold at public auction at the American Art Association-Anderson Galleries in New York on Jan. 5.

The original manuscript was valued recently by the executor of the estate of the late Henry Walters, by whom it was owned, at $500, but was not included in the collection left to the City of Baltimore by the financier's will.

The order of the sale by the executor of the estate was announced here by J. J. Neilligan, speaking for the Walters Art Gallery of Baltimore and the Safe Deposit & Trust Co., the executor.

It is described as being the first complete draft of the national anthem, transcribed from the notes written by Key aboard a British vessel on which he was detained throughout the night of Sept. 13, 1814, during the bombardment of Fort M'Henry.

30 DAYS FOR THEFT FROM CLAIRE WINDSOR

Judge Refuses to Parole Read Whose Wife Sued Actress.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—Alfred C. Read Jr., former Oakland stock broker, was sentenced to 30 days in jail yesterday for the theft of $11 from the purse of Claire Windsor, movie actress and his former friend.

Miss Windsor was not in court when sentence was pronounced.

Read's lawyers asked for a new trial. When that was denied, they asked for probation. The judge asked for and in passing the sentence, remarked that 30 days in jail was light punishment for the offense.

"The defendant has made his own bed," said the Court. "Now he can lie on it. I am told you come of a good family and this indicates to the Court that you know better."

Read is the former husband of Mrs. Marian Read, who won a $75,000 damage judgment from Miss Windsor on charges the actress alienated Read's affections. Miss Windsor recently was granted a new trial of the case.

Miss Windsor charged she had missed money from her purse before when Read was at her residence and said she marked the bills she charged were stolen by Read when he came to her home to confer about Mrs. Read's suit.

NO MORE Blue Mondays!

NO woman dreads to have wash day roll 'round—if she owns an electric washing machine. With its help the hard work is done in jig time. Everything washed snowy clean, rinsed and wrung out with none of the old-fashioned back breaking. Talk to your favorite electrical dealer about it. He'll tell you how surprisingly little it costs to operate it—or any other electrical appliance. The homes in and around St. Louis now get electricity at the lowest rates in the United States.

FEDERAL LIQUOR LICENSES MOVE SLOWLY IN ST. LOUIS

Collector Attributes This to Uncertainty Regarding Law Legislation

Up to today, in two days' sale since the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, 136 of the stamps had been taken, most of them retail permits at $14.59 good until next July 1. Wholesale permits cost $58.34 until the same date, the full-year rates being $100 for wholesale and $25 for retail.

NAMED IN INQUEST AS SLAYER

Joseph Nelson Under Bond in Killing of Henry Wisdom. A coroner's verdict of homicide, naming Joseph Nelson, 910A Marion street, as slayer of Henry Wisdom, who died at City Hospital Wednesday night of a gunshot wound inflicted the night of Nov. 30.

Nelson, who did not testify, will be held under $10,000 bond pending a grand jury investigation. According to police, he admitted shooting Wisdom, his brother-in-law, as the result of a quarrel at the Nelson home. Testimony was that Nelson and his wife had a disagreement and that she went to the Wisdom home, 1820 South Seventh floors, returning later with Henry Wisdom and two other brothers. One brother said Nelson fired from a second-story window with a shotgun when the group was in front of the house.

WINERY PLANTS TO REORGANIZE

Hermann (Mo.) Company Applies to Register Former Trade Marks. Special to the Post-Dispatch. Stark said production would be resumed if additional capital was secured and reorganization effected. Included in the list of trade marks are those for brands of wine, distilled liquors and grape juice.

"MR. JONES, YOU HAVE ASTHENIA!"

"Don't worry! You can get rid of that peopless, rundown feeling in a few days."

"Yes, I can understand how worried you've been—that constant dull headache and that nervous, irritable feeling could easily make you think there was something seriously wrong. You'll be surprised how quickly you'll feel your old self again."

It's Asthenia

(Run-down condition, usually caused by Constipation)

Millions of men and women are in the same lamentable plight today... and not one in ten can guess the cause. That's the insidious thing about Asthenia... it drags you down, slows your mind, robs you of your joys and pleasures, yet you hardly realize you're slipping.

Would you like for once to brush the cobwebs from your eyes, be ready and eager for any task... experience all the glories of this glorious old world? Then rid yourself of Asthenia—and stay rid of it.

You think that you're not the least bit clogged—you say that your "regular" can be but physicians will tell you that it isn't too easy to destroy yourself in this respect and stay doped with poisons. Thus millions of micro-organisms accumulate in the intestinal tract and produce that dull, aching, peopless feeling known as Asthenia.

Decide right now to turn the tables on Old Man Gloom. Take Pluto Water every morning for ten mornings, and see a new world in ten days.

Gentle, Effective Don't miss a day. Take it before breakfast as recommended—one-fifth glass Pluto Water in four-fifths glass hot water—for ten straight days! Cleanse your system of every vestige of health-destroying impurities. Then you will understand why for nearly 50 years, from all over the world, people have traveled to French Lick Springs for this ten-day Pluto Water treatment. And why physicians everywhere recommend it as a mild and effective laxative—non-irritating and non-habit-forming.

Even the breast-fed baby needs it—Bottled Sunshine

You may nurse the baby yourself, but if you want his bones to grow straight and strong, if you want his teeth to be sound and uncrowded, you must provide one factor he cannot properly obtain from mother's milk. This is bone-and-tooth building Vitamin D.

Ordinarily, your baby would receive enough Vitamin D from sunshine to help him develop a well-shaped head, full chest, strong back and straight legs. But clouds, bad weather, clothing, and ordinary window glass prevent the sun's "Vitamin D" rays from protecting him. Regularly every day, he needs Bottled Sunshine—good cod-liver oil in addition.

Good cod-liver oil also supplies another factor babies need—Vitamin A. Your baby must have it to grow and to keep up his resistance.

And one particular kind contains an abundance of these factors—Squibb's! It is less expensive than oils which must be used in larger dosage because their vitamins are not protected. At any good drug store.

CHRISTMAS DESIGNS DECORATE COOKIES

Kris Kringle, Trees, Stars and Poinsettias Are Reproduced.

Never too many cookies for the holiday season, and of course the most popular are those appropriate to the season, whether they be in Kris Kringle, star, tree or poinsettia design or decoration.
Suitable cookie cutters may be found at modest cost, and vegetable colorings, tiny candies and crystallized fruit bits will add to the charm of the cookies.

Kris Kringles.
Cream together one cup shortening and two cups sugar. When thoroughly blended, add two egg yolks and one egg white and beat hard for two minutes. Sift cake flour, measure two and one-fourth cups and sift again with one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and one-half teaspoon powdered anise seeds. Stir into egg mixtures, making a dough stiff enough to roll.
Turn out roll to a scant eighth-inch thickness, shape with a Santa Claus cutter, brush with egg white slightly beaten and place on greased baking sheets. Bake about eight minutes in a hot oven or until delicately browned. Cool, ice the legs with red icing, put a band of white around the middle, red for the coat and hat.

Christmas Trees.
Cut the same mixture in the shape of small trees, brush with beaten egg white and sprinkle with tiny colored candies. Bake until delicately browned. Or bake the trees plain, ice with pale green icing and sprinkle with the colored candies.

Stars.
Omit the anise in the recipe given above, adding one tablespoon lemon juice instead. Roll out to one-fourth inch thickness, shape with a star cutter and bake 10 minutes in a hot oven. Cool, ice with pale pink or green icing. Make a wreath of leaves cut from citron and "holly" berries of red cinnamon candies to put in center of each star.

Poinsettias.
Color icing red with vegetable coloring. Decorate cookies with poinsettia patterns. Sprinkle hearts of flowers with grated orange peel.

Christmas Cakes.
These are best made within a few days of use. Cream one-half cup butter and one cup powdered sugar until very soft, then add three well-beaten egg yolks, one tablespoon orange juice and two cups sifted cake flour. Mix to a stiff dough, adding a little more flour if necessary. Roll out to a scant one-fourth-inch thickness and shape with a small round cutter. Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff, add gradually one and one-fourth cups powdered sugar and three-fourths cup finely chopped blanched almonds. Put a small spoonful on each cake and bake in a moderate oven until delicately browned. Makes about two dozen.

Cinnamon Stars.
One pound confectioners' sugar. One pound almonds, chopped fine. Whites of six eggs. One-fourth ounce cinnamon. Lemon extract.
Beat egg whites until stiff; add powdered sugar, few drops of extract, almonds and cinnamon. Let dough become cold and then roll out as thick as a dollar. Spread over the top with beaten egg and sugar. Cut with star-shaped cutter. Bake in a slow oven on greased sheet.

Almond Rice Cookies.
One-half cup butter. One-half cup sugar. Two eggs. Two-thirds teaspoon almond extract.
About two cups rice flour. Split almonds.
Cream butter and sugar, add beaten eggs and extract and gradually work in rice flour. Roll or pat into flat cake on board sprinkled with rice flour. Cut into rounds, place on flat baking pan, press half almond into each and bake to pale golden color in moderate oven.

Date Sticks.
One cup sifted flour. One cup sugar. Two cups dates, finely cut. One teaspoon baking powder. Two eggs, well beaten. One-half cup nut meats, broken. One-half teaspoon salt. One tablespoon melted butter. One tablespoon hot water.
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add sugar gradually to eggs. Add butter. Beat in dates and nut meats. Add flour, alternately with hot water, beating well after each addition. Divide mixture into two greased pans, 8x8x2 inches, spreading dough thin. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Cool. Cut in strips, 3x1 inch. Remove from pans. Roll in powdered sugar. Makes 2 1/2 dozen sticks.

Mix the mashed potatoes—one and one-half cupsful—while still warm with two tablespoons finely chopped nut meats and shape into balls about an inch in diameter. Place these in the icebox until the next day, then dip in melted butter and roll in crushed cornflakes or rice flakes. Place on a baking dish and bake in a hot oven until heated through and crisp brown.

OLD-FASHIONED SOUP RETURNS TO FAVOR

Husbands Revolt Against Thin Bouillon and Consomme.

"Isn't there any old-fashioned soup filled with vegetables and meat left in the world?" is the question a disgusted husband puts to us. "I am sick of a cup half-filled with what often tastes like hot water with a little flavoring. I want the kind of soup we used to have which was so good that we ate so much of it that it didn't make much difference what else there was to the meal," he says.

So we dig into our files and bring out a number of substantial soups, which are of the "almost a whole meal" type, including Philadelphia pepperpot soup, a favorite in colonial days.

Philadelphia Pepperpot. Three-fourths pound fresh honey-comb tripe. Four tablespoons butter or margarine. One-fourth cup chopped onion. Three tablespoons flour. Six peppercorns. Two bay leaves. Three cloves. Seven cups white stock. One tablespoon chopped parsley. Two tablespoons chopped pimiento. One-half teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. One-fourth teaspoon pepper. One and one-half teaspoons salt. One-half cup diced celery. Two cups diced potato. One cup diced carrots. Cut tripe in small pieces. Heat fat in pan, add onion and cook until washed rice, and let cook gently while preparing one-half cup each grated carrot, grated turnip, chopped onion and chopped celery. Add all to stock and cook slowly for an hour and a half.

Lamb and Rice Broth. Buy three pounds lamb shanks or fore-quarter of lamb and have the bones well cracked. Put in a large kettle with three quarts cold water, one tablespoon salt, two large onions sliced, six whole pepper corns and one cup diced carrots. Cover, heat slowly to the boiling point and simmer for two hours until the meat is tender. At the end of an hour add six small white turnips, peeled and cut in quarters, and 15 minutes before removing from fire add one cup cooked rice. Before serving, remove meat to a baking pan and brown in a quick oven. Use the meat as a separate course with baked potatoes.

One teaspoon salt. One-eighth teaspoon pepper. One tablespoon onion, finely chopped.

Four cups milk, scalded.

Four tablespoons grated American cheese.

Two tablespoons parsley, chopped. Add tapioca, salt, pepper and onion to milk and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add to fat and cook until tender. Add butter, cheese and parsley. Cook until cheese is melted.

Corn Chowder. One-quarter pound fat salt pork, one medium-sized onion, two cups sliced potatoes, one No. 2 can corn, one quart milk, salt, pepper.

Disc salt pork, and try out. Add sliced onion and cook for five minutes, stirring often to prevent burning. Parboil potatoes for five minutes in boiling water to cover, add corn and scalded milk and heat to the boiling point. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

FOAMY LEMON SAUCE. One-half cup sugar.

One-half tablespoon flour. One-eighth teaspoon salt.

One-half cup boiling water. Two tablespoons lemon juice. One tablespoon grated lemon rind.

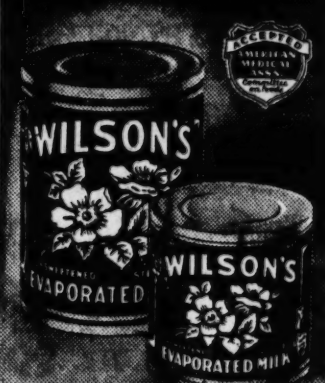

One-half tablespoon butter. One egg white.

Blend sugar, flour and salt. Add boiling water and stir until smooth. Add lemon juice, lemon rind and butter. Cook until thoroughly blended. Cool slightly and pour mixture over stiffly beaten egg white, beating constantly and serving immediately.

golden brown. Add flour and blend thoroughly. Add tripe, stock, peppercorns, bay leaf and cloves tied in cheese cloth. Cook half an hour. Add remaining ingredients and simmer an hour more. Remove bag of seasonings before serving. Instead of the white stock, seven cups of hot water seasoned with bouillon cubes may be used.

Old-Fashioned Vegetable Soup. One pound bone. One pound meat. Two quarts cold water. One-half cup minced onion. One-half cup carrot. One-half cup turnip. One teaspoon salt. Six pepper corns. One teaspoon sweet herbs. One small bay leaf. One sprig parsley. One piece celery root. Four cloves. Cheap cuts of meat, shin, neck or joints and small scraps of meat, such as the flank end of steak or left-overs and bones of roasts, may be used for soup stock. Cut meat into small pieces. For each pound of meat and bone use one quart of cold, salted water. Let soak for an hour.

Then let simmer gently about three hours, allowing from one-half cup to a cup of mixed vegetables for each pound of meat used. Mixed herbs and spices may be tied in cheese cloth and added, and left in simmering soup as long as desired. After vegetables and seasonings are added, cook two hours or more. The froth should be skimmed from stock as it rises.

Barley Soup. Three pounds mutton from the neck. Two quarts cold water. Two tablespoons salt. One sliced carrot. Two sliced onions. Four stalks celery. Four tablespoons barley, soaked overnight. Remove skin and fat from meat that has been wiped with a damp cloth. Cut meat into small pieces, put into the kettle and add water. Heat gradually to boiling point, skim and cook about two hours, adding vegetables at end of the first hour. Strain, cool and remove any fat. Reheat to boiling point, add barley and cook until the barley is soft.

Scotch Broth. Cut in small pieces three pounds neck of lamb and cook with three quarts of water for four or five hours, reducing heat to just a simmer after boiling point is reached. Strain and cool, and when perfectly cold, remove all fat. Have soaking four tablespoons pearl barley, add to stock with four tablespoons well

VEGETABLE AND FRUIT

PRICES UNCHANGED

General Rise in Food Cost Does Not Include Produce.

It's interesting to note that the price of fresh fruits and vegetables is very little higher than last year, and in some instances is just the same.

While other foods have increased, some to a considerable extent, these very important items in meal planning are here in plenty and at the old prices.

It should encourage women to buy fresh vegetables freely, and achieve two objects in so doing—save money and provide wholesome additions to the family meals.

There is a lavish supply of vegetables in the markets now, and carload lots arrive daily from various parts of the country.

We are told that records just compiled for the month of October show a total of 2186 carloads of fruits and vegetables received here, many states being represented.

Spinach. Planting.
Just at present there is a quantity of spinach in the markets and celery-cabbage which combines a taste of both vegetables is also plentiful and cheap.

Carrots, shorn of their tops, come from Michigan in hundreds of sacks, while other states send carrots still topped with green. Nearby gardens also contribute carrots.
Mustard greens from Texas offer a change from spinach and some kale is also seen.

Mushrooms this week took another of those down turns which brought them within reach of modest budgets, as has happened several times since early fall in the mushroom sales.

SCALLOPED APPLES

Pare, core, and slice tart apples of a kind that will hold their shape when cooked. Place a layer of the sliced apples in a baking dish, sprinkle with sugar, and dot with butter. Put in another layer of apples and press down, add more seasoning, and keep on until the dish is heaping full. Cover the dish and cook the apples slowly for from one to one and one-half hours in a moderate oven. Fifteen minutes before the apples are to be served, remove the cover, and spread buttered bread crumbs over the top.

Return to the oven and let the crumbs become golden brown and crisp. The apples will be in whole pieces, almost transparent, and some kinds will be pink in color.
Scalloped apples are good served hot with the main course of dinner or supper.

RICE GRIDDLE CAKES

One cup sifted flour
One and one-half teaspoon baking powder
One-half teaspoon salt
One tablespoon sugar
One-third cup cooked rice
One egg, well beaten
Three-fourths cup milk
Two tablespoons melted butter
Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. Add rice. Combine egg and milk; add gradually to flour mixture, beating only enough to blend.
Add shortening. Bake on hot, greased griddle. Serve hot with syrup or honey.

Steamed Carrots.
Carrots taste good and also retain nearly all their food value when steamed or when baked with a pot roast. Try, also, serving them diced and added to stews or creamed dishes just in time to heat through but not lose their crispness.

In the list of players honored with football letters by Beaumont High School, the name of Billy Hill, veteran of the team, was inadvertently omitted by the school. NATIONAL CHEESE WEEK CALLS ATTENTION TO MANIFOLD VARIETIES

Country-Wide Movement to Arouse Greater Interest in Use and Food Values of Dairy Product.

December 11 to 16 is to be observed as National Cheese Week with emphasis to be laid on the many possibilities of many varieties of cheese.

Some of us confine our use of cheese to sandwich fillings or to gratin recipes, when menus would be much more interesting if cheese were included in many dishes.

The range is wide and the food value of cheese at comparatively small cost so great, that thoughtful women are becoming more cheese-conscious. But there should be greater consumption here to keep pace with other countries.

Although America is the largest cheese-producer in the world, per capita consumption of cheese in this country is less than that of many other countries. We eat five pounds of cheese each per year. In Switzerland, they eat 23, in Holland, France and Denmark 13, and in Germany and England 9 pounds each.

There are 400 varieties of cheese in various parts of the world. They belong to 18 distinct families, and their best-known names are: Brick, Caciocavallo, Camembert, Cheddar, Cottage, Cream, Edam, Emmentaler, Gorgonzola, Gouda, Hand, Loaf, Limburger, Neufchatel, Parmesan, Pecorino, Roquefort, St. Agur, Swiss, and Trappist.

Contrary to general opinion, all cheese is from 90 to 99 per cent digestible. Cheese contains from 24 per cent to 40 per cent protein. American or cheddar cheese contains a far higher portion of calcium and phosphorus than does any other common food. Mineral salts make up from 4 to 5 per cent of the substance of cheese, with calcium making up from 10 to 20 per cent of the minerals.

Cheese and Crab Delight.

Two tablespoons chopped green pepper.

Two tablespoons butter.

One-half teaspoon mustard.

One-fourth teaspoon salt.

One cup cooked and strained tomatoes.

One and one-half cups grated American cheese.

One cup crab meat.

Cook green pepper in butter five minutes. Blend in flour, add seasonings and tomatoes, and cook until thickened. Add cheese, stir a moment, then add beaten egg and cook a few minutes. Add hot milk and crabmeat, blend thoroughly. Serve on rounds of toast or crackers. Save one tablespoon of cheese to be sprinkled on top when serving.

Old English Shired Eggs.

Three tablespoons butter.

Three tablespoons flour.

One-quarter pound old English cheese.

Salt, pepper.

Make a cream sauce with the butter, flour and milk. When thickened and smooth, add the cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Season to taste. Put a generous spoonful of the sauce into each individual ramekin, drop an egg into the center, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and bake in a very moderate oven, 325 degrees, until the egg white is set. Serve immediately.

Ashville Salad.

One pimiento, chopped.

One-half cup chopped nut meats.

One-half pound American cheese, grated.

One cup mayonnaise.

Two tablespoons lemon juice.

One envelope gelatin.

One-half cup cold water.

Two teaspoons Worcestershire sauce.

Cabbage and Beet Salad.

One clove garlic.

One-half package Swiss cheese, cubed.

One cup shredded cabbage.

One cup diced cooked beets.

Salt, pepper.

One-half cup mayonnaise.

Rub salad bowl with cut clove of garlic.

Put cubed Swiss cheese, cabbage and beets, add seasonings and mayonnaise to moisten well. Serve very cold on crisp lettuce.

Vegetable Scallop.

One and one-half cups cooked string beans.

One and one-half cups cooked sliced carrots.

One tablespoon chopped green pepper.

One tablespoon chopped onion.

OSTRICHES as Food in Russia.
MOSCOW.—Ostriches are now being raised on a large scale on the southern steppes as meat. Discovery was made at the Moscow Zoological park that the bird's meat has an excellent flavor and that a thick layer of fat which originally served as a protection from tropical sun also shields the ostrich against intense cold. Each pair raises a dozen chicks a year.

SAYS FEDERAL CONTROL NOT INFLATION, IS PERIL

Industrial Conference Board Head Calls Attention to 'Long-Run Implications' of NRA.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Virgil Jordan, president of the National Industrial Conference Board, warned the National Association of Manufacturers today against what he termed "the long-run implications of the Recovery program" and advised them not to be confused by "all the sound and fury that surrounds the word inflation."

He said the bottom of the depression was reached in 1932 and charged that the policies of the administration "had little, if any, net effect upon the process of recovery in the United States."

"To me," he said, "there is nothing more pathetic than to see industrial executives and bankers in the throes of fear of inflation, making a terrific fuss about a rather meaningless and harmless manipulation of foreign exchange, and worrying about the investments and savings of the widows and orphans, and yet complacently and even enthusiastically accepting a system of centralized Federal control of industry whose implications for the future of the aforesaid widows and orphans are far more serious than anything that can happen to the price of gold."

In sharp conflict with Jordan's views were those presented on the same program by Charles E. Stuart, mining engineer, who said "failure of the NRA and a return to the era of Laissez-Faire, cut-throat competition and rugged individualism would be the shortest and most direct route to Socialism or something worse."

Stuart was the American engineer to whom George Bernard Shaw referred to in his New York speech last April when he told of "a very remarkable report" in which Americans told the Soviets how to get themselves out of "an appalling and awful condition."

R. F. C. FUNDS INVESTED IN 1275 DEPOSITORIES

$125,000,000 Purchase of Notes and Stock Designed to Stimulate Credit.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 8. — The Reconstruction Finance Corporation today announced that it had invested $125,000,000 in capital notes and preferred stock of 1275 companies, including some of the nation's largest.

This amount in purchases has been approved, and Jesse H. Jones, chairman, said the corporation regards approval by its board as closing the transactions. Authoriza-tions by the board, he explained, were not subject to subsequent approval by bank stockholders.

The chairman said securities of 256 banks, of which 11 were large
New York depositories, accounted for $106,000,000 of the purchases, or slightly more than one-fourth.

A proposal that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation set aside $400,000,000 for loans to manufacturers and merchants on long-timed credit has been presented to officials of the Government's lending agency by Thurman Hill, former member of the Kansas Public Service Commission.

Under his proposal, the $400,000-000 would be apportioned among the states on a population basis.

"Unless long term credit is immediately extended to merchants and manufacturers in the Mid-West," Hill said, "the whole recovery program will be impeded.
The Government will have to act immediately in order to save thousands of substantial business enterprises."

CHEROKEE INDIAN CONVICTED AS NEBRASKA BANK ROBBER

State Charged He Was One of Four Men Who Took $2789 at York
Sept. 20.

By the Associated Press.
YORK, Neb., Dec. 8. — Charles Dotson, a Cherokee Indian, was found guilty yesterday of robbing the First National Bank of York of $2789 on Sept. 20 last. Four men took part in the robbery.

An armed guard was stationed in the court room during the trial, the result of rumors that an attempt would be made to liberate Dotson. He has three days in which to file an appeal. Sentence will not be announced until after that time.

Joe Harris, extradited here from Muskegon, pleaded guilty to being one of the robbers and is in the Lincoln jail pending sentence.

But at present waiting pro-

London domination is being resisted stoutly by several fighters and by rival promoters. Up to this time it has suffered some grievous body blows, it con-

of the other important fighters.

An agreement on promotion of title fights will have to be reached soon. The promoters will have to quit battling and leave all fighting to the fighters, if the pay-as-they-enter clients are to be kept interested.

The 'Beef Trust' All-America.

DOLE DOOLEY, former quarterback at Dartmouth, picks an All-America team of beef-trust proportions for the Elks Magazine. Its line averages 230 pounds and its backfield 204 pounds.

Only two players on the team fall below 200 pounds, yet "every man on it is almost as fast as the average back," Dooley observes.

That would be a powerful jugernaut. Stopping it would be difficult, particularly as more than one player on it already has received All-America placing.

Here are the 11 fastest and Still Holds True.

WHILE it is customary to say that "beef does not matter

so much as alertness and speed," in college football of today, the fact remains that the old axiom still holds—"a good big man is better than a good little one."

There is no doubt that everything else being equal, a big football man is harder to stop than a smaller one.

The 1933 edition of the Nebraska team is an example. Here was an outfit of great players, below the average in weight. Ten of the regular team were seniors and more than one reached the first team, on some of the all-

America picks. It turned out to be a splendid eleven; yet, while it made a creditable fight against

Pittsburgh, it lacked the extra poundage to cope with the bulky

Panthers.

A small man, here and there,

when surrounded by size and power elsewhere on the team, frequently stands out. But if middles, however alert of mind and foot, can't cope with superior power, especially the type of fast, big men so frequently seen on the griddons of today.

And so Mr. Dooley's solid top of mobile bone and muscle coming pretty close to being both the irresistible force and the impenetrable mass dreamed of by coaches.

BOTH ANDERSON AND HARPER ARE THROUGH, REPORT TODAY INDICATES

By the Associated Press.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 8.—Elmer Layden, one of the four big men, will replace Hearty "Hunk" Anderson as head football coach at Notre Dame, next fall, as the result of a drastic shakeup of the Notre Dame athletic staff. Jess Harper also will retire as director of athletics.

Harper's successor probably will be announced within the next two weeks.

The most persistent report, however, was that Layden would hold the athletic director's and coaching jobs.

Layden is now coach at Duquesne but will leave his post in time to take charge of spring football in 1934.

In the absence of Father Charles O'Donnell, president of the university, who has been recuperating from a long illness, no official statement on the changes was expected before his return tomorrow, but he was readily admitted by authorities in charge, although none wished to be quoted personally.

It was authoritatively learned that Layden would choose as his assistants Mal Edwards, star of the 1915 team, now end coach at Purdue; Joe Boland, left tackle with the 1924 "Four Horsemen," as line coach, and Tom Conley, a former Notre Dame captain, and now one of Anderson's assistants.

Harper Taught Rockne.

Harper and Anderson stepped into their positions after the tragic death of Knute Rockne in an airplane crash March 31, 1931. Harper formerly coached the Notre Dame football team and was instrumental in making the "Fighting Irish" nationally known. It was under Harper's coaching that the team earned the game and he ultimately succeeded his teacher when Harper decided to retire.

Upon Rockne's death, Harper was recalled. For the first year after Rockne's death, Anderson was the Notre Dame coach, assisted by Jack Chevigny, who was called the "junior coach." The combination lasted only one year and Chevigny left, making Anderson head coach. Anderson did well, in his first year as head coach, but this year his team had a hapless campaign that was brightened only by victories over Indiana and Northwestern and the outstanding upset of the Bears.

Layden a Great Star.

Layden, a 160-pound marvel in his college days, was one of the lightest and fastest fullbacks that ever played the game. In his first year as head coach, he led the team to a 10-1 record, including a victory over the "Four Horsemen" of the 1924 team.

He entered Notre Dame in 1921 and played quarterback for the team as an alternate for Harry Stuhldreher. When he was ready for the varsity in his sophomore year, he was forced to do relief work.

After graduation, he was given the regular fullback assignment, and gained national fame as Notre Dame went without defeat until the last game of the season, when Nebraska beat the Ramblers, 14-0.

And so Mr. Dooley's solid top of mobile bone and muscle coming pretty close to being both the irresistible force and the impenetrable mass dreamed of by coaches.

In 1926, Layden was head football coach at Duquesne, a tri-city college at Duquesne, Pa.

Duquesne University offered him the coaching job there the next year, and he signed, becoming head coach in December, 1927. The 1933 season at Duquesne was its most successful in football. Only Pittsburgh defeated the Layden leaders. The team won nine games, lost one, and tied one, finishing with a 10-1 record.

Noble Kiser Harper's Choice.

The retirement of Harper, who was wanted to return to his ranch in Kansas again, eliminated his plan to ultimately install Noble Kiser of Purdue as head football coach at Notre Dame. It was known that Harper planned to name Kiser to the post and up until today the chief of the boiler-makers was considered a sure choice for the coaching job.

A few hours before today's announcement Coach Anderson and Harper attended the annual monogram banquet on the university campus, either by word or action, gave any indication that it might be their last in their present capacities.

At the banquet Dominic Valro, captain of the team, was named captain of the 1934 eleven, and two co-captains were named for the 1933 team, Tom Conley, Chicago, center, and Hugh Brown, Newark, N. J., an end.

Layden Not Notified.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 8.—Elmer Layden said today that he had received no official notification of his appointment as head football coach of Notre Dame. The Duquesne coach declined to say if Notre Dame officials even had approached him in Pittsburgh sports cir-

Giants' Officials Deny That O'Doul and Jackson Will Be Traded at Meeting Next Week

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Jim Tierney, secretary of the New York Giants, never will get his bag packed for the trip to Chicago next week if the rumor boys don't give him a breathing spell.

Tierney's preparations for attending the major league meetings have met with serious delays while he has been busily engaged in denying that either Francis Xavier O'Doul or Travis (Stonewall) Jackson would be traded, or that outfielder Joe Moore's health was so precarious as to make it doubtful he would be able to take his place in left field for the world championship next year.

Jackson, troubled for several years with injuries to both knees but a brilliant performer for the Giants in the world series, has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the management of the Cincinnati Reds.

"Jackson will be with us next spring," insisted Tierney. "There wasn't anything wrong with his knees in the world series, was there?"

O'Doul's name has been linked with various trade rumors but Jim says the Giants have never even considered trading or asking waivers in the veteran outfielder whose pinch hit won the second game of the world series with the Washington Senators.

As for Moore, Tierney scouted reports that the little outfielder was gravely ill. "He had a minor operation last month," Jim said, "and is almost ready to play right now."

Thus having disposed of the three latest reports, Secretary Jim went back to his packing.

Compromise Logical Thing.

Ed Barrow, business manager of the New York Yankees, thinks the major league will decide to use identical balls next year. He believes the club owners, at their meeting in Chicago, will arrive at a compromise on this problem.

"A compromise is the logical thing," he said. "Major league ball should be played with similar implements in both big leagues. Put the American League cover on the ball. Add the thick stitching now used in the seams of the National League ball. That ought to satisfy everybody."

The difference in the two balls last year made the American League a hitter's loop, while the pitchers had a wide edge in the National.

Along with this question, the magnates probably will battle over the merits, or demerits, of "synthetic double-headers," discuss suggestions that each major league team play two or three games with each team in the rival circuit as part of the regular schedule, and determine whether or not K. M.

BIG TEN COACHES URGE ADOPTION OF PRO RULE ON FORWARD PASS

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Big Ten football coaches today adopted resolutions urging the establishment of a training table for regular players for one meal daily during the season and the opening of fall practice on Sept. 10.

Spokesmen for the coaches said the resolutions would be presented to the conference faculty committee.

Sentiment in favor of bringing back the training table, in some restricted form or other, had been in evidence among the Big Ten coaches all through the last grid season, after Coach Bob Zuppke of Illinois first declared in favor of the revival.

The argument for moving up the fall "deadening" on the start of the training table from Sept. 15 to Sept. 10, has been principally that a number of the schools, where classes also start Sept. 15, do not have as much opportunity for early practice as at other institutions where classes start from a week to 10 days later.

At schools in the latter classification, the coaches pointed out, two-day football drills are possible, without any thought of studies, while players in the earlier-opening schools get only one brief workout a day.

Three recommendations for drastic changes in the college football rules were adopted by the coaches, to be forwarded to the National Football Rules Committee.

On a motion by Coach Clarence Spears of the University of Wisconsin, the coaches voted to recommend that the college code adopt the rule in use this season in the National Professional League that forward passes may be thrown from any point behind the line of scrimmage, instead of from "at least five yards back," as has been the rule.

Another recommendation was that the rule making the ball dead when "any part of the ball carrier's body except hands or feet touch the ground," be removed from the code.

Still another recommendation was for reinstatement of a rule that has not appeared in the books for many years. It provided that, on an extremely windy day, upon agreement of coaches and officials, the offensive team could exercise the option of surrendering the ball to the opponent at a spot 25 yards down field, instead of punting to the opponents.

CITY HIGH SCHOOLS TO BEGIN 1934 GRID CAMPAIGN, SEPT. 29

The 1934 football campaign in the City High School League will open Sept. 29 when Roosevelt opposes Central, according to the schedule announced yesterday by C. E. Neeb, athletic manager of the league. Cleveland and Soldan, which battled for the title in the final game of the past season, have been paired for the last contest next season on Nov. 24.

The schedule:

Sept. 29—Roosevelt vs. Central.
Oct. 6—Cleveland vs. Soldan.
Oct. 13—Cleveland vs. Soldan.
Oct. 20—Cleveland vs. Soldan.
Oct. 27—McKinley vs. Soldan.
Nov. 3—Central vs. Cleveland.
Nov. 10—Central vs. McKinley.

SPORTS CALAD

And the Winner.

SEND my girl an invitation To go to see the football game; It fits in with her inclination, And promptly she accepts the same.

My girl friend claps her hands and howls Behind a big chrysanthemum, While I look wise as forty owls To hide the fact that I'm so dumb.

When someone punts or forward passes, In don't she ask me who is who, I tell her I forgot my glasses, Or, that a post obstructs the view.

Why am I so beset and harassed When am I forced the turn to call? Is my face red? Am I embarrassed? When Sweetie asks, "Who has the ball?"

The players now are in a huddle, When in a jam they take time out; The customers are in a muddle, And don't know what it's all about.

The referee now blows his whistle, Again embattled warriors meet! How sharper than a thorn or thistle Is sitting on the anxious seat!

The game is over, boy, what capers! Stands and bleachers are aflame, I hurry home and read the papers To learn who won the football game.

I Wonder.

"Pop" Warner says Pittsburgh or Nebraska should have been chosen for the Rose Bowl game.

Well, I don't know but what they should.

Although upon the whole We'd say he's good but not too good, If you would crash the Bowl.

The 1933 records show that Carl Hubbell was a standout pitcher. If confirmation is wanted, ask the Senators. Ask anybody.

Jackie Coogan, who was a little shaver about 10 years ago, is now 18 years old and a big shaver. Whiskers will out.

We hope the editor who published his own account of being drunk "in this week's edition" of his paper, will have sobered up in next week's edition.

See where Earl Whitehill, the only Senator to win a game from the Giants, bagged a moose and two deer in Canada recently. No matter what the game, Earl is a big shot.

"Greenleaf Loses First Match in Three Years in Title Tourney." George Kelly must have had him out on a limb.

The Browns are in the same fix as a man with a dilapidated house on his hands that he wants to sell. They'll have to have a general overhauling which won't come back in the sale price.

Notre Dame's triumph over the Army was a happy climax to what Ethelbert Nevins would call a season of "barren gains and bitter loss."

CARDINALS AND BROWNS TO BE REPRESENTED AT MAJOR MEETINGS

With one club planning several deals or, at least, hoping to make them and the other rather "stagnant," the Browns and the Cardinals are preparing to send representatives to Chicago for the league meetings and the joint concave, which start next Tuesday.

The Cardinals, according to club officials, have nothing "in the air." They feel, they say, that their chief task is to develop the material they have rather than to step out and gather in players of doubtful value or those which still need developing. The officials believe that the Cardinals, at their present strength, are flag contenders. Of course, if any offer is made at the meeting the acceptance of which might strengthen the club, it will be considered.

President Broadon, Vice-President Riekey and Manager Frankie Frisch will represent the team at Chicago. Frisch may stop off in St. Louis for a conference tomorrow.

row or Sunday and accompany the club executives, who will depart Sunday night.

The Browns will be represented by Louis E. von Weiss, executor of the estate of the late Phil Ball, Vice-President McBryoy and Manager Rogers Hornsby.

Having finished in the American League cellar last season, the Browns naturally are in a receptive mood so far as trades are concerned. The only trouble, according to Hornsby, is that the other fellow wants a lot and wants to give as little as possible in return. While it is probable that the Browns would, if it were advantageous, trade any man on the present squad, it is just as certain that they will not give up a valuable player for a mediocre one. The names of Oscar Melillo, Sam West, Carl Reynolds, Jack Burns and others have been mentioned as possibilities in possible trades but, unless bids are considerably higher than have yet been made, those earnest young gentlemen will continue in St. Louis uniforms.

Don Poncho's Outlook.
Regretting Days of Old.
Father's Indians Died.
Wealth Without Money.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1933.)

DON PONCHO, good American of Spanish descent, born on the edge of the Pacific, just below here near Cambria, says, "I'll take you over to the hill above Marmolejo, you can see very far from there. How far? To New York nearly."

The earth's rotundity, and many modern contraptions do not limit Don Poncho. He takes you long miles, on horseback of course, early in the morning to the hill above Marmolejo, shows you a stately group of mountains, including Lucia, far to the north, all the while explaining that the world is changing, for the worse.

"I'll tell you what's the matter with this country. You know it yourself. It's the automobile. That costs money, makes people lazy. People in San Simeon get in the automobile to go down to the store. Automobiles and trucks always running from this ranch to San Luis Obispo and back, bringing people, taking them away. We used to hitch six horses to a wagon, once a month, drive to San Luis, one day, drive back the next, spend four bits. That was living."

When Don Poncho, years ago, went to Sacramento to bring back a bunch of horses including "one wild horse, a brown stud," it was his first and only trip to such a distance. Persuaded to enter an automobile, after a few moments he seized the driver by the neck and ordered him to stop. He went after the brown wild horse on foot, roped him in the corral "and you never saw such a good horse. We worked and rode him 20 years."

Once, in early automobile days, when a motorist drove too fast through a herd of steers that Don Poncho was driving, the latter first protested coarsely, then dropped his rope around the motorist's shoulders, dragged him out of his car, and to the police station.

Blood will tell. Don Poncho could give lessons in manners to anyone lacking his Spanish ancestral line. You could send the average second generation of American go-getters to "prep," school, New England College, and over to Oxford to be ironed out by experts, and that American, compared to Don Poncho, would be like Sancho Panza compared to his master, Don Quixote.

He tells you with a smile that he was "born on a horse," and now, with his eightieth year far behind him, rides his 30 or 40 miles, straight as an arrow, amazed if asked "are you tired," throws his leg over a 16-hand horse as gracefully and lightly as he did 50 years ago, and says "I take you a better ride tomorrow, only longer."

Those that gather and preserve fragments of early American history should talk with Don Poncho. He can tell of life on his father's ranch, at the edge of this ocean, where queer speakers of English out here, thinking of nothing but gold, were curiosities.

"My father had a hundred Indians working on his ranch, good vaqueros too, could rope cattle and break a horse as well as anybody. Every week, we'd kill a beef or two, for the Indians."

"How much my father paid them? Two or three dollars a month. We gave them food and clothes, like the missions did. When they got the two or three dollars they went and got drunk. No use giving them more. Then smallpox came and they all died, and all the other Indians died in all directions. We had only two or three left out of our hundred Indians."

Certain gentlemen who declare that vaccination is not necessary should remember that those dead Indians had never been vaccinated. Nobody of Don Poncho's family died of smallpox.

What a pleasure to meet a man who lives close to the earth, and appreciates it, knows every trail over mountains and through valleys from here to San Francisco, and loves them all.

To Don Poncho the comparative value of various grasses for cattle, the length and depth of their roots, enabling them to fight through drought, their quick response to rainfall, are as important as Aluminum Co. of America, "Big Steel," with its gyrations, or the changing value of gold to the hurried money mob that thinks itself important, is rich today, broke and jumping out of a hotel window tomorrow.

Don Poncho has never been rich, and he will never be poor, for his wealth is not in money, or half empty hotels and apartment houses.

IF YOU ASK MY OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Mrs. Carr:
I AM 35 years old, have two daughters, 12 and 14 years old. I divorced their father because he was a drinker. I then worked and carried them often eight or ten blocks to the car for school. Now, Mrs. Carr, I am married the second time, and although I still have to work at times, I have a good husband and he is good to my children.

If I ask these girls to help, one will be sick (until she wants to be well). They won't even do dishes; if they start, they fight, and it takes them over two hours to finish. They drop soiled clothes where they step out of them.

I have always dressed them well and they have gone everywhere children go; attended dancing school. They have never been openly insolent, but the last few weeks I have caught them making faces at both of us. I would never live through the shock if they offered to do something voluntarily. My hair is getting gray with worry over them.

A HEART-BROKEN MOTHER.

This is all quite a severe arrangement—yourself. There is a form of self-indulgence among some mothers (it amounts to just that). They over-indulge little children, spoil them, do not try to develop self-dependence, nor teach them to shoulder such a load as you have. These girls have been indulged in this way; when, suddenly, you wonder what is the matter and wig up in the role you not only have prepared for yourself but have thought was the height of nobility in motherhood—the "Heartbroken Mother." But you are surprised that you are not getting the applause you want; instead, the audience is snickering, sticking out the tongue, and "booming" you.

Make out a regime for the girls, part pleasure, part work, part responsibility. Don't look abused and removed, join in their plans and try to help them. Leave the clothes kicked under the bed until they pick them up, and their own plates unwashed until they wash them. But don't look "brokenhearted"; it will not get you a thing.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
I HAVE known a girl for almost a year and would like to give her a present this Christmas. She is 20 years old. Please just suggest some presents that you think would give this girl happiness. You have helped hundreds of other persons, please help me and may the public enjoy your column as much as I do, and may God bless you in the good work you do.

LEGS.

I can tell from your letter that the case is desperate. But you are forlorned as compared with many men who wait until the day before Christmas; then grow purple in the face, out of breath and dash into the crowded store like a drowning wretch, swooping up whatever they can find.

But you surely must know your girl's taste by now and her circumstances. I'll try though, making a guess at a few things: If she is the fluffy kind—look at the new rhinestone clips, earrings of rhinestones, evening bag in light colors with metal weave or one set with imitation stones, a set of bracelet and neck chain costume jewelry, any one of the thousand bracelets in colors, metals or imitation gems. Perfume—if you know what kind she likes.

If she likes sports—and is "one of 'em"—sports jewelry, "Scotty" pins, a good rough warm scarf, a gay sports belt, fun-filled brown leather gloves, "Scotty" bracelet in plaid metal.

If she smokes—an inlaid or enameled or chromium or composition cigarette case—a soft toiled leather one, or a cigarette lighter, a box of English cigarettes, if she likes them.

If she likes books or magazines—illustrated, de luxe copies of Christmas numbers, "The Illustration," "The London Illustrated News," "The Bytander," or beautiful edition of a book by some American writer. A subscription to a popular magazine for one year.

If she likes something live—a lively Chow, probably the liveliest dog there is, unless it is a fox-terrier which is not so stylish just now.

Dear Martha Carr:
I AM a married woman. Is it proper for me always to sign myself "Mrs. John Smith" instead of "Mrs. Clara Smith"? Also, should letters addressed to me be addressed to "Mrs. John" when announcing myself over the telephone personally should I be "Mrs. John" or "Mrs. Clara"?

A READER.

Sign your letters to friends and equals, "Clara Smith," beneath this is parenthesis (Mrs. John Smith), unless the letter or note is written to a close friend or one who knows

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest but, of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an address and stamped envelope for personal reply.

SHE UNDERSTANDS TWENTY LANGUAGES

WHEN a book written in a foreign language comes into the Public Library they give it to Mrs. Fannie Friedman, who understands more than 20 languages. She classifies it, so that the lonely foreigner, seeking reading material in his native tongue, will be able to find it. There are 100 languages represented in the library's foreign section. Born in the little country of Riga, now known as Latvia, Mrs. Friedman's native tongue was German, but before she was 10 years of age she had read more than 200 French books. Her natural aptitude for languages led her on until she had conquered Russian and English with equal ease.

My father was a wealthy grain exporter in Europe," Mrs. Friedman said. "When he saw his fortune gradually diminishing, however, he decided to move to America, and we came directly to St. Louis.

Soon after coming to America she married Dr. Honas Friedman, also a European, who was a practicing physician in St. Louis until his death 25 years ago.

At the library Mrs. Friedman went to work in the cataloging department and thus began her extensive study of the lesser-known tongues. Others on the staff who know French, German, Spanish, Italian and the more prominent languages do much of the cataloging of these books, but the little woman from Riga understands not only these, but Polish, Hungarian, Rumanian, Hebrew, Yiddish, Ruthenian, Servian, Croatian, Bohemian, Bulgarian, Slovenian, Slovak, Portuguese, Greek, Latin and Swedish.

Dozens and dozens of texts and novels in each of these languages are found in the St. Louis Library. Mrs. Friedman has done a quantity of translation work during her stay in St. Louis, and some of it includes translation into the characters and codes of other alphabets. Much of her training along this line she received in Riga, where she had governesses and attended private boarding schools. The remainder she has learned in St. Louis under the tutelage of various accomplished scholars.

Mrs. Friedman asserts that not nearly so many foreign language books are catalogued at the library since stringent immigration laws were passed, because this has lessened the call for them. St. Louis is decidedly not a "foreign section" city.

Besides the work of Mrs. Friedman, there are many other interesting divisions of the library as, for instance, the music collection, where more men than women read books on that art.

The NRA has slightly decreased the "reading public" at the library, although the librarians believe that people who formed the habit of reading while they were unemployed are continuing it since they found work. One woman, a steady user of the library, missed a few weeks and then returned. She explained that during these few weeks she had been out of work and was too worried to read, but now she was re-employed.

The library encourages St. Louis citizens in calling upon it for help, but one of the librarians was dumbfounded recently when a man asked the size of the eyes of an octopus.

One day this week a young man called to ask if the Prince of Wales wears garters. But the most exciting occasion in some time, at the library, occurred when a woman telephoned frantically to say that she was cooking some kohlrabi on the stove and she didn't know how to finish it. Librarians hurried about in search of recipe books and the day was saved.

In the past few weeks a number of men and women have asked for books on various trades, in the hope that they can find a job along that line. Waiting-on-tables seems to be the favored one just at present. Books on hotel work and table etiquette are popular.

GOOD TASTE

By EMILY POST

Girls and women have suddenly become interested in crocheting and knitting again, and are coming to the library for aid. Negroes take a great interest in the books on conditions and education of their race. They also read their own authors, such as Paul Lawrence Dunbar and Countee Cullen.

Men read more books on bridge than women, which suggests that they take their pastimes more seriously. Women apparently are no longer interested in books on calisthenics, but are calling for reducing exercises instead.

Men and women alike are interested in the breeding and training of dogs. Already women are beginning to call for books and plays based on Christmas and Thanksgiving, and both sexes read books on travel and how to get ready for a tour abroad.

Hypnotism is always popular among library users, and recently adults are calling for books and pamphlets on the N.R.A. Librarians find that when a book is mentioned or discussed in a St. Louis newspaper, the demand for it surpasses the supply and a waiting list emerges, even though the book is an old one.

The advisory service is the recipient of many strange requests, and even the rushed librarians get a laugh now and then. A very timid female voice was heard over the telephone the other day, asking the librarian if she could suggest two places in Chicago where one might remain safely over night.

MY Beauty Hint

By SUE CARROLL (Screen Actress).

VERY dear neighbor died recently. I went to see the family immediately and offered to do anything that I could for them. Not one of the neighbors went to the funeral because the message was given out that the service was to be strictly private. We now discover that the family are very much hurt because we did not come.

Answer: You were quite right in not going. When the announcement reads "Funeral strictly private," the family is expected to notify all those whom they are willing to have present. There is nothing to be done now except to explain that you stayed away out of deference to what you believed were their wishes.

My dear Mrs. Post: I am insisting that even though I am a widow I should sign my letter "Mary Smith Gray," or "M. S. Gray," and in parenthesis to the left, or underneath (Mrs. John Gray). At High School the English class was to write letters and sign them correctly, pretending to be their mothers instead of the daughters. The instructor said my daughter should have signed her letter "Mary Smith Gray" and put simply "Mrs." in parenthesis.

Answer: You are, of course, right, and there must have been a mistake in quoting the teacher since it is not possible that a teacher of a high school class in English would suggest that a lady called herself "Mrs. Mary," which is what (Mrs.), without her late husband's name, implies.

My dear Mrs. Post: I must write a resignation to our club secretary, who is Mrs. John Bell. I know her through our club association, though not intimately. Should I say Dear Madame or My dear Mrs. Bell, or what?

Answer: "My dear Mrs. Bell."

My dear Mrs. Post: In Miss, undivided from my signature, correct when writing a return address on a letter? And do I write it in the same way when signing a departure?

At High School the English class was to write letters and sign them correctly, pretending to be their mothers instead of the daughters. The instructor said my daughter should have signed her letter "Mary Smith Gray" and put simply "Mrs." in parenthesis.

Answer: You are, of course, right, and there must have been a mistake in quoting the teacher since it is not possible that a teacher of a high school class in English would suggest that a lady called herself "Mrs. Mary," which is what (Mrs.), without her late husband's name, implies.

My dear Mrs. Post: I must write a resignation to our club secretary, who is Mrs. John Bell. I know her through our club association, though not intimately. Should I say Dear Madame or My dear Mrs. Bell, or what?

Answer: "My dear Mrs. Bell."

My dear Mrs. Post: In Miss, undivided from my signature, correct when writing a return address on a letter? And do I write it in the same way when signing a departure?

My dear Mrs. Post: I am insisting that even though I am a widow I should sign my letter "Mary Smith Gray," or "M. S. Gray," and in parenthesis to the left, or underneath (Mrs. John Gray). ## GOOD TASTE

Girls and women have suddenly become interested in crocheting and knitting again, and are coming to the library for aid. Negroes take a great interest in the books on conditions and education of their race. They also read their own authors, such as Paul Lawrence Dunbar and Countee Cullen.

Men read more books on bridge than women, which suggests that they take their pastimes more seriously. Women apparently are no longer interested in books on calisthenics, but are calling for reducing exercises instead.

Men and women alike are interested in the breeding and training of dogs. Already women are beginning to call for books and plays based on Christmas and Thanksgiving, and both sexes read books on travel and how to get ready for a tour abroad.

Hypnotism is always popular among library users, and recently adults are calling for books and pamphlets on the N.R.A. Librarians find that when a book is mentioned or discussed in a St. Louis newspaper, the demand for it surpasses the supply and a waiting list emerges, even though the book is an old one.

The advisory service is the recipient of many strange requests, and even the rushed librarians get a laugh now and then. A very timid female voice was heard over the telephone the other day, asking the librarian if she could suggest two places in Chicago where one might remain safely over night.

One day this week a young man called to ask if the Prince of Wales wears garters. But the most exciting occasion in some time, at the library, occurred when a woman telephoned frantically to say that she was cooking some kohlrabi on the stove and she didn't know how to finish it. Librarians hurried about in search of recipe books and the day was saved.

In the past few weeks a number of men and women have asked for books on various trades, in the hope that they can find a job along that line. Waiting-on-tables seems to be the favored one just at present. Books on hotel work and table etiquette are popular.
